Fiance of Slain Actress
Said to Have Wife
Here

Search was instituted here today for the Oakland wife of George Garfield, who is under arrest in Los Angeles in connection with the death of Fannie Curland, a motion picture actress, to whom he was to have been married. Three women's love for Garfield is thought by the police to have led to a quarrel which ended in the actress' suicide or murder.

The police say that Garfield admits marrying a young woman in Oakland three months ago, and that it was after telling the Curland girl of this that the quarrel began, witnessed by two other persons near the arrest. Garfield, whose father claims to be a first cousin of James A. Garfield, twentieth President of the United States, was arrested along with Ray Ellis, his employee, and Mrs. Frankie Hutton Lang, as a result of the latter's subconsciously while under the influence of an anesthetic administered by Dr. R. G. Roberts while he was dressing wounds on her head. Her dispirited statements, overheard by detectives, resulted in finding the body of the dead woman in an unoccupied ranch house near Riverside, where it had lain for nearly two days.

CONFLICTING STORIES.
Mrs. Lang at first said she killed the girl, but afterwards denied this, explaining that her love for Garfield induced her to take the blame. Garfield maintained that the girl killed herself, but the coroner states that the murder theory will hold good.

At the inquest today District Attorney Lyman Evans will try to reconcile the conflicting stories of those involved. He expects also to find Garfield's Oakland wife, who is unknown to the authorities, but is expected to appear in an effort to save her husband.

The search for the revolver with which Miss Curland was shot has so far been unsuccessful.

George Erikson was the name Garfield gave as the owner of the cottage where the tragedy was staged.

Henry Curland, father of the slain girl, today declared he had fought for years to save his beautiful daughter from the white-lighted path that led to her death.

Sheriff Wilson of Riverside county made this assertion.

"I will not accept a theory of suicide. The circumstances point to murder."

SUCCEEDS MOORE

W. W. Garthwaite Elected Director of Key System, Representing Smith Interests.

W. W. Garthwaite, Oakland banker and member of the advisory committee in charge of the F. M. Smith interests, has been named a director in the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad, or Key System, to take the place of George G. Moore, the financier who recently relinquished control of the road following his failure, through war conditions, to carry out his proposed refinancing plans. Garthwaite was elected yesterday and took his seat at once.

The election of Garthwaite, as a representative of the Smith interests, marks the final withdrawal of Moore from the road. Following news of this withdrawal A. W. McLimont, who had been general manager under the Moore regime, resigned. W. R. Alberger, former general manager under the F. M. Smith regime, taking his place. Several other changes were made at this time, but Moore's name still remained on the list of directors. Moore in the meantime left for Europe, where he is now viewing the European war as a guest of General French of the British army, being one of the few civilians to be accorded this honor. He and French are old personal friends. On the arrival of his fiancée the new director was at once elected to fill his place.

GET ON REGISTER TODAY;
LISTS CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT

The registration office and the Hall of Records, Fifth and Broadway, will be open until midnight tonight, according to an announcement made by County Clerk Cook today. During the morning large numbers of persons registered, it being the last date upon which they can become eligible to vote at the general election on November 3d. It is estimated that there will be in Alameda county nearly 120,000 persons on the great register.

While District Attorney Is Talking of Investigation
the Guilty Persons Are Making Their Getaway

The grand jury will meet Monday morning for the purpose of investigating the alleged election frauds as the result of the recount now progressing before Superior Judge Wells. It is reported that the grand jury has been asked to make its final report to the court. The present jury was impaneled nearly eighteen months ago. The usual period served by a grand jury is one year.

The gross frauds of the Progressive leaders have stirred the state. Nothing like these frauds have ever been seen in California.

No one has been arrested as yet and there is a feeling that an attempt is being made to screen the guilty parties. A great deal of criticism in this respect is being directed at the district attorney's office. While that official is talking of investigating the guilty parties are said to be leaving the state.

With forty precincts remaining to be counted in the Cook-Gross election contest the exact gain or loss of the two candidates will not be known until next Tuesday, at which time it is expected that the entire 185 contested precincts will have been gone through by the court. There was no material change in the count of nine precincts this morning. County Clerk Cook is about 250 in the lead.

More than 500 subpoenas are now being served for the appearance of witnesses in court when the arguments and motions are made at the conclusion of the count. Many of those whose names are on the list of subpoenas cannot be found.

MORE ARRESTS MADE IN DYNAMITE MYSTERY

Following "confessions," charges and counter-charges, the police of Oakland, Martinez and Stockton are more puzzled than ever over the queer maze of circumstances surrounding the discovery of dynamite caches last week near Martinez and Bay Point.

J. C. Emerson, the first man arrested, who was released, fled to Oakland and was captured again here by the local police on orders from Stockton, last night at the Martinez county jail, where he is being held, gave out a "confession," as a result of which J. L. Carlisle, a detective, and Fred Wilson, a chauffeur, were arrested in Stockton at an early hour this morning. They are being held for investigation and may be charged with illegally transporting dynamite. If the local police and the detectives in the case verify the claims of Emerson, his, but later developments caused Brokaw's organization to order his arrest. He was turned over to the authorities at Martinez at that time and has been held since.

The "confession" made last night charges directly that Brokaw ordered the burial of the dynamite. Emerson declared that he was introduced to a former convict named Kowski and Carlisle by Brokaw.

"GET DYNAMITE," HE CLAIMS.

"Brokaw told me to get some dynamite, which I did by breaking into a store house in Berkeley," said Emerson. "I took it to Stockton, but Brokaw told me it was not needed just then, as the members had paid their dues."

"Later Brokaw told me to get more dynamite, which I did by breaking into a car at Bay Point. Kowski assisted me. We took the dynamite to Stockton and hid it in various places with the object of 'discovering' it."

VIOLENT GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED, SAYS PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 3, 3:03 p. m.—The official announcement issued this afternoon declares that the violent attack of the Germans at Roye has been repulsed by the allies. The official statement was: "First, on our left wing the violent action which has been progressing since yesterday continues without interruption, particularly in the region of Roye, where we have repulsed all attacks, although on this part of the front the enemy has been reinforced by new additions taken from the enemy's center, as has been previously reported."

"Second, on the center nothing is to be noted from Rheims to the Argonne region. In the Argonne district the Sixteenth German Corps—the army of the Crown Prince which had attempted to slip by through the woods of Grunne—has been driven back toward the north of the Varannes-La-Harazee-Viennes-La Ville line."

TODAY'S WAR
DEVELOPMENTS

French and German reports agree that the fighting on the western end of the battle line in Northern France continues without decisive advantage to either side.

In an announcement made at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Paris the French war office says that a violent action progressed in the region of Roye, where the allies have repulsed all German attacks on the left wing.

A statement from the German army headquarters issued last night said that the right wing of the German army in France had repulsed renewed efforts on the part of the allies to outflank it. To the south of Roye the French had been dislodged from their positions, it was declared. German advances in the Argonne region were recorded, while the situation on the center was reported as unchanged.

Today's French statement says that the army of the Crown Prince has been driven back in the Argonne district, and that slow but continuous progress is being made by the allies in the Woerthe district. Nothing, it says, is to be noted on the line from Rheims to the Argonne region.

Reports from the eastern area of the war continue conflicting. Gloving accounts of Russian successes with a new invasion of East Prussia emanate from Petrograd and other pro-Russian sources. On the other hand, it is certain that the German army which drove the Russians from East Prussia is making a serious invasion to the east, and that an important engagement along the River Niemen is imminent, while other German and Austrian forces are checking the westward movement of the Russians in Russian Poland and Galicia.

The most dependable reports indicate that the really great battle is being fought at Cracow, where an unnumbered Russian force is attacking the Germans and Austrians, there united in immense strength.

Still farther apart are the contrary claims regarding the struggle of the Austrians against the armies of Serbia and Montenegro. An official statement from Serbia says that the Balkan allies have gained a brilliant victory at Vafrentsina. According to Austrian reports the invaders of Bosnia are being scattered, while the counter invasion of Serbia proceeds satisfactorily.

A new German casualty list adds 9600 names to the dead, wounded and missing. The wounded include Prince Joachim, the Emperor's youngest son.

According to Rome advices, a cabinet crisis is approaching, due to differences as to the attitude of Italy.

Reports of the illness of King Charles of Roumania are revived. Those opposed to the monarchy insist that these reports are issued to cover a delay in determining Roumania's attitude.

Tokio announces that another Japanese mine sweeper has been sunk by a German mine in Lao Shan bay, China. The Japanese army is said to be continuing its preparation for a general assault on Tsing-Tau. The Japanese are being shelled by the forts and the German warships in the bay of Kiao Chow.

The French cabinet has decided that it cannot accept the proposal to institute official general prayers for the success of the French arms, while agreeing that all creeds are free to proceed with such services within the limits fixed by the law.

There is nothing new from Antwerp. The latest Belgian official reports said that the city was resisting successfully the bombardment of the Germans.

The Chinese Government has again protested against the Japanese occupation of the railway station at Wel-Halen.

"PROGRESS SLOW BUT CONTINUOUS."

"In the Woerthe district and on the heights of the Meuse our progress is always slow, but continuous."

"In the Belgian field the Germans are bombarding the front southeast of La Place d'Anvers without being yet able to produce any considerable effect on the works. They have delivered many infantry attacks which have been repulsed."

"In the Russian field of operations a strong German army of four corps has taken positions between the frontier of East Prussia and the river Niemen. Its left wing has been thrown back on Mariampol and Suwalki. At the center the city of Augustovo has been taken by the Russians. On the German right wing the struggle continues around Ossowetz, between Lyck and Bielostok."

"In Galicia the rear guard of the Austrians has retreated in disorder as far as the Vistula."

"In Bosnia, Servian and Montenegrin columns are advancing on Sarajevo."

VON KLUCK REPULSES ALLIES; BERLIN.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 3, via Amsterdam and London, 11:43 a. m.—The following official statement was given out at army headquarters the evening of October 2d:

"The right wing of the German army in France (General Von Kluck's division), has repulsed renewed efforts on the part of the French to outflank it. To the south of Roye the French have been dislodged from their positions."

"The situation in the center of the battle front remains unchanged. German troops advancing in the Argonne region have won substantial advances in a southerly direction."

"East of the river Meuse French troops from Toul undertook energetic night attacks, but were repulsed."

"Before Antwerp, Fort Warre-St. Catherine and the redoubt Borhevelv, with their intermediate works, were assaulted yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Fort Waelhem has been invested."

"The western and important outer epaulment of the Termonde fortifications is in our possession."

French Admit a Slight Falling Back of Detachment

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—After having tried in vain recently in the North of France to break at Tracy-Le-Mont and then at Roye the strong line of the allies, the Germans have renewed their attacks between the latter city and the region of Arras. Their last efforts in which they have been hurling their forces against the French and English have had no better results.

The French, in an official statement frankly admit a slight falling back at the left of one of their detachments. On the other hand the allies have not only successfully opposed the terrible onslaughts of the enemy at other points, but have made gains.

The allies continue to pour in their troops at points where they are needed to replace those worn out by the hard fighting or in filling gaps in the ranks. It is assumed that England's native Indian troops, whose arrival at Marcellise last week has only just been announced, are either at the front or in its vicinity. They have greatly strengthened the French line, which, it is roughly estimated, now numbers 750,000 men.

Lieutenant-Colonel Rousset, the military critic of the Petit Parisien, in reviewing the situation, says: "It is on our left that the battle takes on the most imposing proportions. When one considers that after hardly a month of fighting the enemy was nearly at the gates of Paris, it can be seen how much territory we have gained on the Germans, who counted on crushing us."

EFFORT ON TWO WINGS.

"The enemy has brought to its right large forces, hoping to break our offensive, and at the same time it returns to attempt the passage of the Meuse. It is making thus a visible effort on two wings, and at the same time guarding on the rest of the front in an expectant attitude. This is the old tactic of flanking which reappears unfortunately, for it has no more the merit of secrecy than that of surprise. We know it too well now to have it still imposed on us."

The troops in the trenches are suffering severely in the chilly nights and consequently a number of British supply officers have visited Paris and have purchased all of the available supply of warm clothing, furs, comforters and sweaters. Each man in the field has been supplied with a blanket, a water-proof sheet and an overcoat, but the districts where the fighting is proceeding are subjected to thick mists, making a long sojourn in the open air unendurable.

PARIS, Oct. 2, 2:05 p. m.—William Bardel, the American consul at Rheims, accompanied by his wife, daughter and son, left Rheims today for Troyes. There are no Americans in Rheims nor is there any other reason why he should stay, consequently he is seeking safety elsewhere. Just before the Bardels left a shell burst near where Mrs. Bardel was walking in the street and killed three persons.

across the Niemen river against the Germans in the province of Suwalki seems imminent."

VERDUN BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 3, via London, 2:45 p. m.—A correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, who has witnessed the military operations in the Argonne Forest and north of Verdun, telegraphs his paper that the bombardment of Verdun still continues. Much activity at the Verdun railroad station has been noted and there are three captive balloons over the place.

The artillery is doing efficient work in the Argonne district and causing much trouble, but the German position is as of "iron."

Up to the present time all the efforts of the enemy have been futile. While the developments are slow, the correspondent avers, it is thought that the final decision is not far off. The population of the district is starving.

Reports Agree That

Gen. Von Kluck Is Moving Northward

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3, 3:40 p. m.—Unusual activity in the publicity departments of the German and Austrian army headquarters has furnished an account of the results of current battles differing so radically from those from the camps of their opponents as to render the widely divergent statements irreconcilable.

In regard to the battle of the Aisne there is only a single point on which the French and German reports agree and that is that General Von Kluck is still going northward, though at a small pace, and that he is so powerful that General Joffre has been obliged to admit that the German commander has been able to make a French detachment debouching from Arras fall back.

Further south, in the neighborhood of Roye, according to the German staff, the French have been dislodged from their positions, but the French communiqué declares that all the German assaults there were shattered. Again the Germans assert they have fought their way southward and have made substantial advances in the Argonne district and the French counter this by claiming to have made progress there, while on the far eastern end of the line around the River Meuse, the French claim to have driven the last Germans back across the river, and the invaders say they have been above the line for several days in that quarter. Each side thus is furnished the news it wants to hear.

The first Austrian staff report with any details issued by Field Marshal Potiorek gives flat denial to the Serbian victory stories of victory, but it is only fair to say that the Serbs are equally emphatic in giving the lie to the Austrian claims.

According to Field Marshal Potiorek the process of clearing up the Serbian litter in the province of Bosnia is progressing apace, while the Austrian offensive in Serbia is proceeding satisfactorily.

The Servians and their Montenegrin allies, however, maintain that they have Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, almost in their grasp.

The new army of Emperor Nicholas is on the march and according to the Petrograd general staff the Russians once more have crossed the German frontier at Szegezency and Gradow, Russian Poland. This is conceivably awkward for the German invaders, who are said to be retreating from the Suwalki district.

LONDON, Oct. 3, 8 a. m.—Commenting on the status of the battle in Northern France, the correspondent of the Times at Paris says:

"The violence of the battle seems to be concentrated for the moment on the left wing, which has prolonged itself to a point within thirty or forty miles of the Belgian border, south of Arras. Through this line the Germans have attempted to break with the object of isolating the forces of the center. The combat in this line has been extremely violent, but the allies hold the enemy well in spite of partial successes by the Germans."

"All along this immense battle line to the right, the left and the center, the enemy has tried to break through in vain. Nowhere have the French yielded. On the contrary, they have steadily and methodically progressed, especially on the right wing. New progress has also been made in the Argonne region."

TOKIO, Oct. 3.—An official announcement states that another Japanese mine-sweeping boat at Kio-Chow has been sunk after striking a mine. The casualties are given as four killed and nine wounded. The mine-sweeper was known as the Kavo Maru and was sunk in Lavo-Chan bay. The German forts and ships, it is also announced, are constantly shelling the Japanese army, which is slowly preparing for the big assault on Tsing-Tau, the German stronghold.

A German aeroplane from Tsing-Tau made two successful attempts to attack Japanese warships. Japanese aeroplanes went in pursuit of the German air craft and were subjected to bomb fire. A captive balloon, which has been seen above Tsing-Tau, has been downed. It is believed to have been damaged.

German Heroism Is Extolled by Enemy

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—"Details are just available of the heroic engagement of Prussian guards at Suippes (in the French Department of Marne) a fortnight ago," says the Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail. It arose out of the German attempt to cut the railway connecting Rheims and Verdun.

"This attempt failed and the Germans were in danger of being caught between the French infantry and cavalry. At this moment, while the greater part of the German troops were retreating in the direction of Rheims, that a regiment of Prussian guards threw itself desperately upon the lines of the French cavalry. Not only did they stand firm, but the devoted regiment hurled itself against the solid French front. After the fifth charge there were only 100 men left surrounding their flag. With signs of reluctance they gave the signal of surrender and it was then found that nearly all of the 100 were wounded."

"In the course of this engagement the guards lost 3000 men, it is stated."

King of Roumania in Precarious Condition

By Associated Press.

ROME, Oct. 2, via London, 3:40 a. m.—A dispatch to the Giornale d'Italia from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that the condition of King Charles of Roumania has suddenly become worse. The doctor's bulletin today declares he must have absolute quiet in order to save his life.

The well informed, however, according to the dispatch, believe the king's illness is really a political step, whose aim is to end the popular agitation to have Roumania join forces against Germany.

Germany Building Fifty Submarines

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The German dockyards are working with feverish energy, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Mail. Fifty submarines are being built. It is reported, the submarine successes having made the German public clamorous for more ships of this kind. The great lack of benzine, petrol and rubber are seriously affecting the German transport in the field, according to the dispatch, as all secret petrol deposits established before the war are exhausted.

selling at double and treble the ordinary rates. The Austrian Premier, Count Karl Stuerger, yesterday received a deputation of influential representatives of Austrian industry. The delegation urged that immediate measures be taken by the state to prevent further unjustifiable advance in the prices of breadstuffs, as the high rates already are causing much hardship among the poorer classes.

It was declared that farmers, especially in Hungary, were withholding supplies in order to obtain still higher prices. The Premier promised that the Government would do its utmost to prevent such exploitation of the consumers.

Heavy Fighting Along Prussian Frontier. Is Report in Petrograd

By Associated Press.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 3.—The general staff headquarters issued the following official statement:

"The battle on the front in East Prussia continues on the line of Mlirampol. No decisive result has been obtained. We have at last occupied the German positions at Preskasno, west of Szyrno."

"Under a night offensive attack by the Russians the enemy retired from Leppounur, in the direction of Suwalki."

"On the road from Semy, northward to Suwalki, the movement of the Germans pursued by the Russian cavalry under protection of artillery became at times a disorderly retreat."

"Fierce fighting is going on in the vicinity of Suwalki. German reinforcements, hurried by the railroads toward Margrabova to the rescue of the retreating troops, took the offensive in front of Augustowo and Suwalki."

"Near Raczka the Germans made night bayonet charges, but met with heavy casualties, many of their men being killed or wounded."

"Augustowo was being bombarded with heavy artillery from the north-west side of the town up to the afternoon of October 1, when the Russian infantry took the offensive resolutely and drove the enemy from that region."

"The enemy was also forced to evacuate St. Shutshin and Grajevo, where the Russian troops invaded German territory."

"The Russians have captured some automobile trucks from a German column operating against Oswowet."

"On the Mlawka line the enemy made an offensive demonstration, but was repulsed by the Russian troops."

CHINA REPLIES TO JAPAN'S NOTE

Considers Neutrality Violated and England Inexcusable as Nippon's Ally.

PEKING, China, Oct. 2.—The Chinese government today replied to the latest Japanese note. It declared again that it considered the Japanese occupation of Wei-Hai-Wei, in Shan Tung province, a breach of neutrality and asserted that if the rest of the railroad in Shan Tung was occupied such action would constitute a further violation.

The state council, under the chairmanship of Vice-President Li Yuan-Heng, yesterday postponed consideration of current business and discussed at length the Japanese violation of Chinese neutrality.

The speakers contended that the Japanese were making Shan Tung province another Manchuria; that the progress of Japanese troops along the railroad was unnecessary from a military standpoint; that Great Britain could not be excused for the disregard shown by her ally, Japan, of China's neutrality, particularly in view of her declarations concerning Belgian neutrality and that the Japanese, in view of their outrage in Shan Tung, are not treating the Chinese as a friendly nation.

The council finally drafted a series of interpellations to the government, and then entered into secret session.

WAR TALES ARE MANY, BUT HERE'S STRANGEST

Roustabouts Turn Soldiers in West Indies, Arm With Flintlocks, and Wait for German Fleet

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The steamer Korona brought a cargo of war tales today from the West Indies. Every native there sleeps with his gun under his pillow, said the Korona's sailors. Little specks of islands that no one ever heard of north of the Tropic of Cancer are throwing up towering earthworks and barefooted natives, yesterday's nobodies, are today's generals. Roustabouts are soldiers, every town has a guard, every island district is under other island rule. Ten thousand rusty flintlock muskets rule the land and from the sea come tales of strange men of war threading in and out among the islands, always seeking and never finding one another. This was the war going on current among sailors from other ports whom they met on the docks at St. Lucia.

"One of the interesting things," said Frank de Lagarde, the Korona's assistant purser, "was the native guard, a native of the island is happy these days, for he totes a gun, rides on a bicycle, and marches behind a brass band. And the government pays for it all."

"TROOPS AWAKE." "Some of the strangest looking big fellows I ever saw have been commanded by the authorities. Some of them are the old high-wheel affairs that our fathers rode; some of them have no tires, most of them are red with rust and all of them squeak. I heard the troops coming two blocks away. And the arms they carry are in the same class."

"At Barbados every negro and Chinaman on the island has joined the army. They have what they call a 'life guard' to protect the palace. What they are afraid of I don't know, but I heard that they had been told that the Kaiser was planning to send his fleet over and capture the possession. That was enough for those natives. They threw up a line of breastworks that the whole of Barbados could not take. They fire a cannon every time a ship is sighted. They have burnt up a lot of powder that way, I understand. Whenever that old cannon cuts loose the army comes, Hickey-split for the shore. They line up behind the breastworks with their muzzle-loaders and their derringers, and you've got to show them that you don't mean any monkey business."

"WATCH FOR GERMAN NAVY." "At Dominica, near St. Thomas, the natives have built a little fort just to fight the German navy when it does come over. There are not enough white men in Dominica to hold a meeting, much less a war. In the center of their fort they have planted a tall flagpole. Every morning at daylight a man pulls himself up to the top of that flagpole with a pulley, unfolds a camp stool and stays there, looking out to sea. He is looking for the German navy. Two hours later he comes down and another man takes his place. This has been kept up every day for weeks, from dawn till darkness."

"English, French and German warships chase each other around the islands and it's no wonder the natives are fidgety at St. Lucia there were nineteen ships tied up, all afraid to stir outside the harbor."

"SPOILED THE BEEF." "At St. Lucia we saw the Hamburg-American liner Spreewald, loaded to the gunwales with prime South American beef. She was nosing around the islands when the Berwick spotted her about daylight one morning. The German boat did not have a chance so she lay to. When the British were launching their boats to send over a prize crew with the refrigerator and the machinery. He opened up the hatch and sent down the plant, and I heard him fixed it so that a lot of the beef spoiled. Then he threw a wrench into the wireless plant and put that out of commission."

ROME, Oct. 2, 10 p. m., via Paris, Oct. 3, 4:50 a. m.—A meeting of the Germans was held here today to collect funds for a war present to the Fatherland.

The women in attendance gave all the valuables they possessed, and a chambermaid insisted on giving her bankbook, calling for 3000 lire (about $600), though she was urged to keep part of it. The German women here have sent to Germany three cars loaded with rations for the wounded, made from their household linen.

CRUISER LEIPZIG SINKS TANKER

British Steamer Elsinore Sent to Bottom; Oberon in Danger.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The Japanese cruiser Idzumi was sighted at 5 o'clock last night off Point Arena by Captain Christensen of the steamer Avalon, that arrived here early today from Willapa. The warship was steaming south.

TANKER IS SUNK. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The British oil tanker Elsinore, chartered to the Union Oil Company, was sunk off the coast of California on September 15 by the German cruiser Leipzig.

The British steamer Oberon, now more than a week overdue at Panama, was in those waters at the time, and fears are expressed that she, too, fell a victim to the German shells.

The exact location of the sinking is not known, but, judging by the time the Elsinore was out and her average speed, she was close to Port San Luis when she was captured and sunk.

The Oberon, also a Union Oil tanker, left Port San Luis the following day for Panama. There is every probability that she met with the same fate as the Elsinore.

Captain John Robins and his crew of 33 officers and men were transferred to the Leipzig and were then taken south to the Galapagos islands on the equator and off the coast of Ecuador. Here they were marooned, but managed to get word to Valparaiso, Chile.

The Union Oil agent at Valparaiso immediately notified the company, and steps will be taken to rescue the marooned men.

CONSIGNED TO CONSULATE. LIMA, Peru, Oct. 3.—The Kosmas steamer Marie, which arrived at Callao yesterday with the British steamer Bankfield, sunk by the German cruiser Leipzig off Eten, Peru, has been consigned to the German consulate. The Marie will remain at Callao until the conclusion of the war.

Crisis in Cabinet Is Feared in Italy

By Associated Press.

ROME, via Paris, Oct. 3.—The Idea Nazionale, the new organ of the Nationalist party, says that besides Foreign Minister San Giuliano, the Minister of the Treasury, Signor Rubini, will probably resign, although Premier Salandra's efforts to avoid a ministerial crisis. The Idea Nazionale says that Cardinal Merry del Val will probably be appointed Archbishop of Madrid, which is now only a bishopric under the see of Toledo but will be raised to an archbishopric. Cardinal Merry del Val's mission will be to strengthen the relations between Spain and the Vatican.

GREECE TO DECLARE FOR TRIPLE ENTENTE

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A dispatch to the Express from Athens states that it is reported there that Emperor William of Germany has sent a telegram to the King of Greece, warning him that if Greece enters into a war against Turkey, Germany will guarantee the future existence of Greece.

King Constantine replied, the dispatch says, that if any of the Balkan states took up arms on either side Greece would declare for the triple entente.

FRENCH ARMY BOOT FAILS UNDER STRAIN

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The large orders on short time contracts that France has placed in England for boots for its soldiers bears out the report that the footwear of the French went to pieces early in the campaign. France had long been ridiculing the German army boot and rejoiced at the news that the coarsely shod Germans suffered badly from blistered feet. But it is now seen that the more comfortable French boot could not survive the test of hard usage. The order has been placed at Northampton for the delivery of 100,000 pairs to France before October 25. The short time limit of these contracts show how imperative is the need.

The war has caused an artificial manufacturing boom throughout England. Where there were formerly hordes of unemployed factories are running night and day on military supplies. The needs have a wide range and include cannon, shoe strings, razors, traction engines, cartridges, socks, saddles, rations, cloth, uniforms, under clothes, oil skins, bayonets, kitchen equipment, tents, motor trucks and explosives.

TO CREATE FOUR MARSHALS.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The French Government will create four marshals of France, according to the Paris correspondent of the Express. The men selected, he says, are Generals Joseph J. C. Joffre, the commander-in-chief of the French army, J. S. Gallieni, the military governor of Paris, General P. Pau and C. de Castelnau, who are on the fighting line.

German Attack on Antwerp Defenses Repulsed by Artillery.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 3, 7:50 a. m.—Describing the fighting of Friday in the name of Antwerp, the correspondent of the Times says:

"During the early hours of a Friday there was a heavy bombardment of the whole line of the Antwerp defenses from Boom, five and one-half miles northwest of Malines to Lierre, nine miles southeast of Antwerp. It was especially severe at the fort of Wavre-St. Remy, toward midday the 'ring of the Germans' became dulcivorous."

The Belgian artillery continued active, but the German reply was intermittent and chiefly directed on the bridge in the village of Waelhem.

"During the morning the Germans penetrated to the fort of Wavre-St. Catherine, but were driven back."

MANY HOUSES DAMAGED.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A dispatch from Antwerp to the Reuters Telegram Company tells of the fighting around Antwerp. It says:

"The town of Lierre was again bombarded by the Germans today and many houses were damaged. The Belgians with the bayonet rushed to the German attack on the fort at Lierre, but the Germans, who had inflicted severe losses on the Germans. The Belgians allowed the enemy to approach Lierre last night. The forts then opened fire, compelling the Germans to retire with losses."

Ternode was also attacked during the night, but the Belgians blew up a bridge and repulsed the Germans.

"A Taube aeroplane flew over Antwerp at 4 o'clock, this morning, too high for our fire."

GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS CAUGHT JOINING COLORS

By Associated Press.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 3.—Thirty-five Germans and Austrians who were attempting to smuggle themselves to Seattle on their way back to their native land to join the fighting ranks were captured by a police patrol launch in Vancouver harbor last night. They were in a scow towed by the tug Cleve. The police launch came alongside so quickly that the officers got on board and clapped the hatch over the only opening in the cargo before any chance of fighting occurred. The entire party was headed back to the wharf and taken to the police station. Most of the men were armed.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 30 years, and a chemist's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick relief and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep bright. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD IS STIRRED

City Attorney's Ruling Would Disrupt Procedure. Robinson Asserts.

That the opinion filed by City Attorney Ben F. Woolner is in effect an attack upon the integrity of municipal civil service, and will be opposed as such by the civil service board, was the statement of Harrison S. Robinson, president of the board, when asked today what attitude the civil service commissioners will take in the matter. Robinson stated that he did not consider Woolner's opinion "good law," and that if put in practice, it would produce chaos.

Robinson expressed the greatest surprise that Woolner should have offered the opinion filed with the civil service commission, as he declares that it is at variance with civil service practice in other cities as to the wording of the section of the charter of Oakland of which Woolner's opinion is an interpretation. It is identical with that of the San Francisco charter, Woolner's opinion, if correct, would apply to that city and to many others, and Robinson believes that it would work havoc if it became generally accepted.

OPPOSING PRINCIPLE.

Woolner's opinion would operate to take away from the civil service board the power of removal which the board exercises in insuring that the creation of an eligible list automatically removes an employee holding an emergency position. This would protect an unlimited number of city employees in holding their positions without civil service standing so long as the appointing power, the commissioners or the various boards, should see fit to continue them in office for political reasons.

Woolner filed his opinion at the request of the civil board after a conference between the board and the board of park directors and the city attorney, at which the city attorney declared that the park board and the other boards had always been under civil service regulation by the charter since the charter went into effect. The civil service board asked that the opinion should be made in writing and placed on file, that it might be used as a guide for future procedure.

APPEAL TO COURT.

The opinion proved to be a bombshell. Woolner filed his opinion after carefully going over the matter in conference with Assistant City Attorney Charles Beardsley, who concurs in the view expressed. The rift between the civil service board and the city attorney's office appears, therefore, to be a wide one, and that which will require some effort to bridge. It will probably be taken to the courts before it is settled.

"This opinion strikes at the integrity of civil service," declares Robinson. "The board feels that the basis of its work would be undermined if this were a correct interpretation of the law."

"The extension of civil service over the park department was not sought or brought about by the civil service board. The board and its small group of employees are already overburdened with work, without seeking to add to their labors."

OPINION IS REASONABLE.

"However, the city attorney's ruling that the park and other departments were put under civil service by the charter while dealing with a close question, has much to support it, and the mere fact that it will add greatly to our board's labors is no ground for objecting to it."

"It is only that part of the opinion which would render the city service chaotic and which would make employees less safe in their positions than they were when appointments were all political, which the civil service board will oppose. To say that a man is in or out of civil service according to the appointing officer or the civil service board hears of the vacancy first, is to lower the city business to the status of a game of tag."

Our board believes that the citizens of Oakland want the 1200 salaries jobs in the city service fairly and efficiently conducted. We believe it our duty to oppose any ruling which can work powerfully against both of these ends, particularly when we have the best of reasons for believing that the ruling does not state the law."

LONDONERS "DOUSE GLIM," FEARING ZEPPELINS

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Among themselves Londoners frankly discuss the possibility of a Zeppelin raid over this city. For a month all needless illuminations and electric signs have been done away with. Such conspicuous affairs as the lighted dome of the Coliseum and the row of lights along the Embankment have been put out of commission, water even has been drawn from the lake in St. James Park, so that it can not reflect lights.

The Admiralty recently announced that a British ship would examine the effect of this dimmed illumination and requested that nobody fire at the ship while it was used for such examination. Searchlights stationed on the Charing Cross station on the Arch at the entrance of Hyde Park, and on Lambell Bridge.

Such possible targets as Buckingham Palace, the Abbey, St. Paul's and the Bank of England, are in absolute darkness.

CHOLERA SPREAD ALARM.

ROME, via Paris, Oct. 3.—Private advices received here from Vienna are to the effect that cholera is growing in the Austrian capital over the spread of cholera. Military authorities are making preparations to defend Vienna against attack, and many persons have left the city, the dispatch adds.

WOMAN DENIES MURDER SHE REFUTES CONFESSION

FANNIE CURLAND, WHOSE DEATH HAS INVOLVED FORMER OAKLAND MAN AND HIS BRIDE.

Garfield were Mrs. Lang, the dead girl, whose father for eight years had tried to break her away from the primrose path, along which she followed Garfield in an inexplicable fascination, and a girl wife, unknown to the local police, but who may be speeding to her husband's side today from Oakland.

GARFIELD'S MARRIAGE.

It was the knowledge that Garfield had married the Oakland girl, the police declare, that precipitated the tragedy and caused the death of Fannie Curland.

Unaware of the existence of a third woman, the other two, Jeanette Huffman and Fannie Curland, the police say, had fought for Garfield's love for many years. Lately each seemed to believe she had won the supreme place in his heart.

And then, three months ago, Garfield, the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the strange romance, married the third woman.

Then he returned and admitted to Mrs. Lang that he was married.

He did not, however, tell Miss Curland. Mrs. Lang, renouncing her love for the man's sake, had attempted to drop out of his life, she says.

Last Tuesday Garfield told Miss Curland he was married. It was following this that the shooting occurred.

The third woman, unaware of the existence of the other two, had been trying to make a little home for Garfield in the MANILA, P. I., Oct. 3.—The North German-Lloyd steamer Mark, which sailed from Yokohama on July 31 for Hamburg and touched at Hilo, August 5, is in the harbor at Nasugbu, whether she was pursued by a British cruiser.

The ship's agents telegraphed here expressing the fear that the vessel would be seized within the ten-mile limit and the American cruiser Galveston was at once dispatched with orders to observe the situation at Nasugbu closely, but not to communicate with either the cruiser or the German ship unless it was imperative to do so.

Reinforcements Avert Disaster to Von Kluck

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Dow, Jones & Co., a Wall street news agency, sent out the following dispatch today:

"BORDEAUX, Oct. 3.—Minister of War Millerand declared today that only the steady arrival of heavy reinforcements had averted disaster for the army of General Von Kluck and the entire right wing of the German army. He said that early in the week the forces of General Von Kluck were in desperate straits and that part of them had been forced to withdraw from advanced positions to a point northeast of St. Quentin by a raid of French cavalry."

Posse Capture R. R. Bandit Near Colton

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 3.—William Carl, aged 25 years, of Los Angeles, was captured this afternoon five miles west of Colton by a posse in search of the bandit who held up passengers of the westbound limited of the Southern Pacific last night. Carl is said to have confessed. The hold-up netted the bandit one dollar.

UNDENTIFIED BODY BURIED.

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 2.—Unclaimed by relatives or friends the body of the unidentified man who was found dead in an orchard here Wednesday morning was interred in the potter's field at the county infirmary today. Two women called at the mortuary yesterday in the hope of identifying the man but without success. It is thought he was a stranger to this part of the country.

North, believing that he was waiting on his death to accumulate a competence for them.

The bullet which brought death to beautiful Fannie Curland brought to the young girl wife the revelation of her husband's other loves.

It is not known just when Mrs. Garfield, the girl wife of three months, will arrive, but she is expected late today.

WOMEN MAY MEET.

The other woman, Mrs. Lang, may be taken to Riverside before she arrives, however. And it is possible that the two women now living, who fought for the love of one man, may come face to face for the first time in Garfield's cell in the Riverside jail.

Ralph Pontius, attorney for Garfield and for Mrs. Lang, today stated that every effort will be made to save Garfield from a charge of murder and that, if saved, he will be sent to an asylum to be cured of the drug habit.

Detective MacNamara today declared that two women in the tragedy, Fannie Curland and Jeanette Lang had been Garfield's victims. Mrs. Lang made a violent denial of this, however.

Meantime, the most poignant grief was expressed today by Henry Curland, father of the murdered woman. Telling how she was lured from her home at 15 years of age by the fascinations of Garfield, he recounted his struggles for eight years to save her from becoming the pitiful victim of her love and her beauty.

BROTHER'S STORY.

Harry Curland, the slain girl's brother, at 593 South Main street, today said: "Six or seven years ago Fannie met Garfield. That was the beginning of the end. She was fascinated by him. We tried to get her back to our life, but he had her and he kept her."

"Jeanette Lang, who said she was in the house the night Fannie was killed, had been with him for years before that, and when she saw another taking her place her jealousy was a constant threat to Fannie."

"About three years ago I was passing along in front of a cafe and Jeanette came along. She stopped me. 'Where is Fannie?' she asked. 'I don't know,' I answered. 'Well, I tell you I do know, and if I find her I am going to have my revenge, that's all.'"

A little man who had been standing beside Harry Curland as he told the story suddenly seized his arm.

FATHER'S PLEA.

"Why didn't you tell me that?" Why didn't you?" If I had only known that Jeanette said that," almost groaned the little man. He was Fannie Curland's father.

Curland went on with the story. "Garfield used to tell everyone that he and Fannie were married. He seemed to be proud of it. And he used to tell me in front of Jeanette, and it seemed as though he did it to see what Jeanette would do. And she was a high strung girl. She would do anything."

"I don't know why Garfield took the two down to Riverside. I think, though, that when they were there that he boasted before Jeanette that he and Fannie were going to live in the Riverside orange ranch house. Oh, it was all a case of jealousy."

The police Riverside today told how Garfield had led a dual life there. They said he apparently had been a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Garfield was arrested September 11 by Motorcade Officer Lester Bradley for violation of an automobile ordinance. At that time, Bradley said, Garfield gave his name as George Erickson and his address as the house in which the woman was killed.

Today when Bradley, faced Garfield in police headquarters he recognized the man as "Erickson."

To-day and yesterday nearly 200 of the solid citizens of San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda have visited and inspected our Lakeshore Boulevard Lots.

Telegrams, letters and inquiries over the long distance phone have come from Santa Cruz, Santa Rosa, Sacramento, Tracy and other interior points.

The widespread interest that has been aroused seems to come from a deep realization on the part of the public that large lots at a price of $1,200, within a few minutes' walk of beautiful Lake Merritt and its parks, and on terms requiring a payment of only $12 a month, with no interest or taxes for a year, are wonderful bargains—in fact, MONEY-MAKERS for all who buy at these figures.

The people of the East Bay Cities, if not of San Francisco, seem also to thoroughly appreciate the fact that around the head of Lake Merritt is, and always will be, Oakland's finest residence district. There the highest values for property will be demanded and paid. There the 1915 visitor will look for his ideal homesite, and create a demand that will mean a big jump in prices.

To-day, in many homes around the bay, men and women are eagerly discussing the question of "Which lot?" and "How many lots?" Beginning to-day, we shall start to close a number of lots that have been reserved. By sunset to-morrow, the announced day of the Public Sale, we confidently expect that EVERY LOT in this small but superb property will have been sold.

To those who have not yet seen our wonderful Lakeshore Boulevard Lots at $1,200 we have only to say "Don't delay." It will be wise to inspect the property to-day, and avoid to-morrow's rush. Never again in the history of the Bay Cities will it be possible to purchase large, fully improved lots, one block from car line and nine minutes from the City Hall, on "Oakland's finest avenue," Lakeshore Boulevard, at ANYTHING LIKE our present price of twelve hundred dollars.

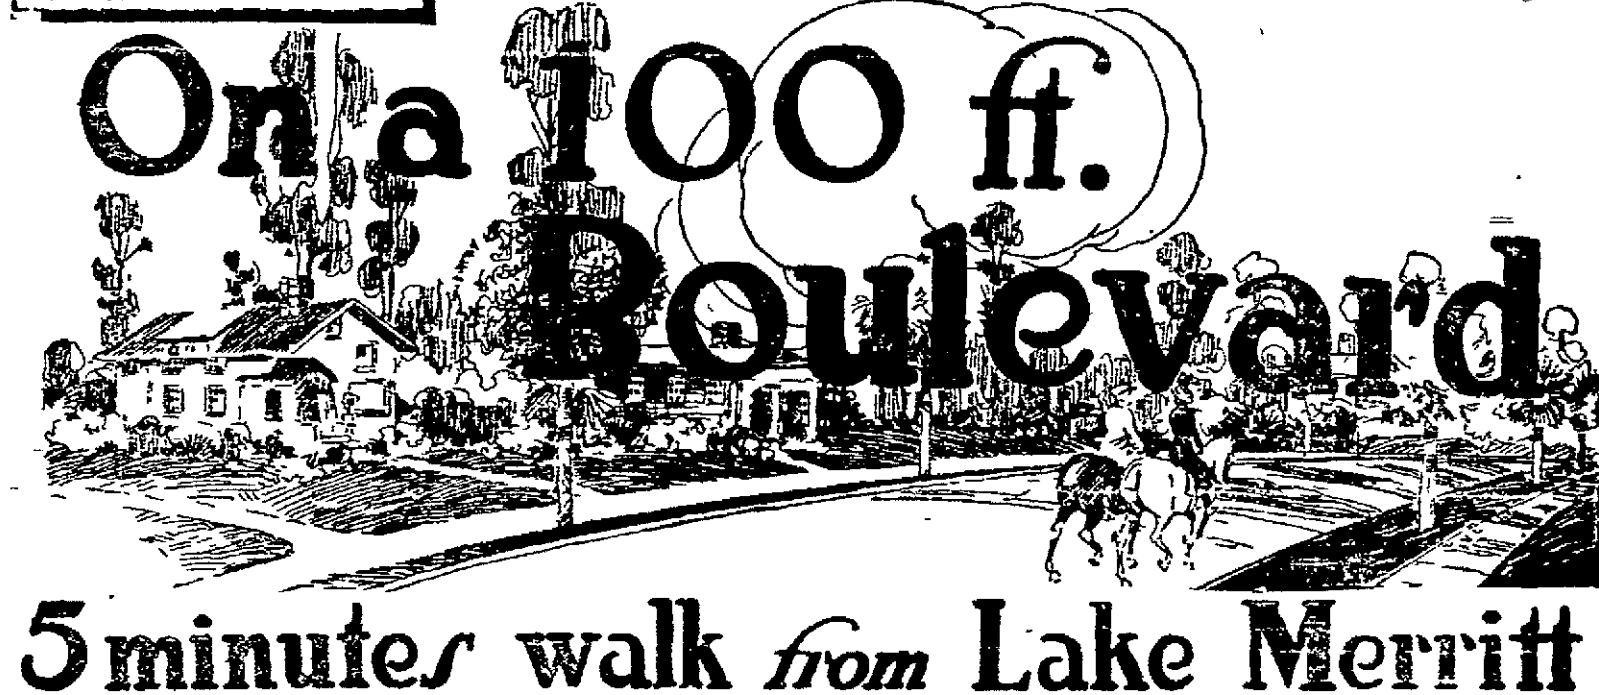

HOW TO SEE THIS PROPERTY

Take N. Y. Fifth Avenue Coach at 12th and Broadway to-day at 10 a. m., 11 a. m., 2, 3, 4, 5 p. m.—FREE tickets on application. To-morrow the coach will run from 12th and Broadway at 10 a. m. and 11 a. m., and in the afternoon from Lakeside Park. Or take Lakeshore Ave. (not Grand Ave.) cars at 14th and Broadway, Oakland, get off at Walavista Ave., and walk one block north.

later so that Brokaw could lay the blame on the unions.

"The dynamite was not all used and I took some back to Bay Point."

It was then that I was arrested."

The labor unions held a big mass-meeting in a theater at Stockton last evening at which the alleged dynamite plot was the chief topic of several speakers.

Michael Casey of the Teamsters' Union caused a sensation by reading affidavits by Hans Lejeune and C. H. Mack, who said they were employed by Brokaw to beat up prominent labor leaders.

Lejeune swore that he engaged three men to "get" Antonio Johannsen, captain of pickets.

After the affidavit had been read Lejeune stepped to the center of the stage to confirm the fact that he had sworn to.

Olaf Tveitmo, another speaker, declared that the unions had obtained knowledge of a gigantic plot. The meeting was one of the most sensational ever held in Stockton.

HOUSEFLY IS REAL MENACE TO BABY

Professor Herms Explains the Dangers in Lecture at City Hall Exhibit.

"Now, I'd like to know what those things are good for," said an old lady who was peering most critically around the exhibits at the Baby-Saving Show this morning.

The exhibit to which she pointed with such apparent disdain was a set of especially sterilized and hygienic baby playthings, bare, unpainted spoons, colorless rubber tubes and little dolls, radiatingly destitute of hair or any other adornments on which germs might find a resting place.

"And they expect babies to play with those," she sighed. "Now, when I was young—"

Just then a young Chinese woman stepped up with a young baby in her arms. The baby looked about solemnly, with little cooing sounds, as it held a ragged and most unhygienically painted doll in its arms. Suddenly it spied the white spoons, held together by a narrow thread, hanging on the wall, labeled the very latest device of modern science for the amusement of the young. With one grab the baby reached over for the spoons. Then, with a look of disgust, dropped them to the floor, breaking the thread as they fell.

The mother looked about anxiously, but no one save except the old lady, who went over to her and said:

"Well, with all their science and hygiene, they don't know what babies like, do they?"

And the Chinese girl smiled in answer, and her baby sucked its bright rubber doll.

Interest in the Baby-Saving show at the city hall is increasing, and today throngs of women and men visited the show, attended the lectures, and asked questions of the attendants. Many mothers and their children were among the crowds, and the Mothers' Rest Room provided on the third floor was much in use.

The most interesting lecture of the series is scheduled for this evening, when Professor S. J. Herms will take on the question of "Sanitation." Professor Holmes will be introduced by Professor C. A. Koford of the University of California. The reception committee at the lecture will be composed of members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

Dr. Philip King Brown of San Francisco will be the lecturer tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 in the city hall, his subject being "Tuberculosis." Dr. Brown will describe his lecture with stereoscopic slides. He will be introduced by Rev. Charles Macon. The reception committee will be from the Alameda County for the study and prevention of tuberculosis.

Professor W. B. Herms of the University of California delivered the lecture this afternoon.

HERMS IS AUTHORITY.
Professor Herms is recognized as a national authority on flies and other diseases bearing insects, and is an arch-enemy of the common housefly. His written works on this subject are well known and his campaigns have met with much success.

Professor Herms said in part: "Flies and babies are incompatible. Many flies always mean many sick babies. The only innocent of this danger but is helpless. No one else is responsible for this state of affairs than the fly producers and those who willfully tolerate them. Certainly the life of one baby is worth more than the hurt feelings of a dozen fly producers. The North Carolina State Board of Health states that it was responsible for the death of between 1000 and 2000 North Carolina babies last year. Surely our California flies have no better manners, but I trust that the intelligence of California mothers and better living conditions in this state have not permitted this to happen here."

"The experimental evidence that flies are carriers of disease is absolutely conclusive, particularly for typhoid fever, cholera and a certain kind of dysentery. A fly physician has recently said: 'We look forward with confidence to the complete extermination of flies, convey the causative organism of infantile diarrhoea and of dysentery.'"

"In one year in the United States the actual number of deaths from summer complaint was 52,275, of which 44,527 were under ten years. If only a small fraction of these deaths was traceable to the flies, have here an enemy well worth fighting."

GOOD SURROUNDINGS.
"We are largely creatures of environment, a clean beautiful environment breeds in a wholesome manner upon the people, the opposite is equally true. Flies are the result of filth. A clean city will have few or no flies."

Professor Herms divided his lectures into three parts: (1) information, (2) application, and (3) legislation. The speaker called attention to the fact that an informed public is essential to an efficient intelligent crusade against the fly. He said:

"Twenty-five out of every 100 flies originate in horse manure. That flies also breed, however, to a less extent in cow manure, chicken manure, garbage and other organic matter. A ton of horse manure left exposed for a week will produce an average of 900,000 flies. The maggots found in manure will develop into flies ordinarily in about ten days. The exhibit illustrates all the stages of development very well. The fly is born in filth and lives in filth, hence no fly can be trusted to alight upon the baby's nursing bottle, its food or its face. Protect the baby in every possible way against flies."

"The housefly can unquestionably be controlled. Countless campaigns have shown successful results in all parts of the country. The closed manure bin from which the contents are removed at least weekly should replace the year-old pile. Garbage cans should be kept tight. The privies of the rural districts should be made fire-proof or treated with chloride of lime or kerosene. Stock rooms should be screened and all infectious material carefully disposed of."

"Housefly control in a community can only be successfully accomplished where the citizens are united to do the work and where the negligent are compelled by law to respect the common welfare."

An interesting and instructive exhibit from Professor Herms' laboratory at the University is on exhibition at the Baby-Saving Show. It touches on all points of the life history and control of the housefly.

COUPLE ARE MARRIED AT SILVER WEDDING

FRUITVALE, Oct. 2.—A wedding and a silver wedding were celebrated last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kettner, 2225 Ransome avenue, Alameda. Mr. and Mrs. Kettner celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The bride was Mrs. Mabel McBrine, formerly of San Francisco. The groom was Mr. Ernest Kettner, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Kettner. The couple were married by Rev. J. W. Shade, a pioneer millman, died yesterday morning at his home, 3740 Grove street, in this city, after a lingering illness. He was 63 years of age. For the major part of his life Shade was a resident of Vallejo, returning to Oakland three years ago. The funeral services will be conducted by the Old Guard, of which he was a member, on Monday afternoon at the Howe street crematory. The deceased is survived by a widow, three sons and four daughters.

CANADIANS START
QUIETLY O'ERSEAS

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—A correspondent of the Daily Mail, has sent from Quebec the following description of the departure of the Canadian troops from

"Thirty-one ships were required to carry the men, the guns, the horses and the supplies of the over-seas expeditionary force. To convey that number of ships a fleet of eleven war vessels was requisitioned, the whole movement being the largest and most important ever effected on the Atlantic. It was carried out in a splendid manner. The movement from Valcartier was effected in fine style and the embarkation and sailing followed as a part of a well ordered plan. The movement of 21,300 troops and 3000 horses was the biggest war action that Canada has ever undertaken and it was performed almost faultlessly."

"The movement from Valcartier started with the mustering of the left half of the Twelfth Battalion which was sent to Quebec to perform guard duty and ended with the departure from camp eight days later of the right half of the same battalion. The troops that moved in took possession of the wharves and the breakwater and when they disappeared one day the red coats of the Eighty-seventh Regiment replaced the khaki suits of the men of the Twelfth battalion. 'In this eight days the division had moved out of Valcartier. Horses, artillery and transport wagons, came over the 13 miles of road, while the troops were sent by train."

"It had been intended to march all the men to Quebec, but the weather was splendid and plans were hastily made for movement by train. It required six days to transport the various units, an average of ten troops moving away from the camp each day. The trains ran directly to the breakwater and the transfer to the ships was made promptly. As the ships were filled they moved out and steamed down the river to anchorages previously agreed on and there met the naval convoy; afterwards the great fleet set out to sea."

"There was little of the picturesque in all this business. There were no cheering crowds; in fact comparatively few people knew anything of what was going on."

"By the President of the United States of America
"A PROCLAMATION

"Whereas, Great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsels of statesmen have not been able to save from the terrible sacrifice; and,

"Whereas, In this, as in all things, it is our privilege and duty to seek counsel and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before Him, confessing our weakness, and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things; and

"Whereas, It is the especial wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace;

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer and supplication, and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God that, overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things they can not govern or alter, taking pity on the nations now in the throes of the conflict, in His mercy and goodness, showing a way where men can see none, He can vouchsafe His children healing peace again and restore once more that concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness nor true friendship, nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that He forgive us our sins, our ignorance of His holy will, our willfulness and many errors, and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise;

KING'S DAUGHTERS HOLD CONVENTION

About 122 Delegates Attend
State Gathering and Elect
New Officers.

About 122 delegates attended the State convention of the California branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons, which was held yesterday in the King's Daughters' Home, 704 Broadway. The convention opened yesterday morning at 9:30 and closed last evening. One hundred representatives of the various circles of the northern half of the state were present at the dinner which was served at noon yesterday and about the same number accepted the hospitality of the Home at supper, over which Mrs. Matilda Brown, state president of the order and president of the King's Daughters of California Home for Invalids, presided.

One of the most important features of the convention was the election of officers, which resulted in the re-election of Mrs. Matilda Brown, president. For many years she has been head of the order and the Home. She has not only given her moral support to the institution but she has also been one of its most liberal donors. It was largely through the efforts of Mrs. Matilda Brown that the present handsome edifice for the incurables was erected.

The King's Daughters voted to again conduct their next convention in 1915 in the assembly hall of the King's Daughters' home of this city, where one of its most successful conventions was held this year.

The following officers were installed for the year:
President, Mrs. Matilda Brown, Oak-

MELROSE CLUBS CONFER OVER LIBRARY SITE

MELROSE, Oct. 2.—A delegation of Melrose citizens, representing six improvement organizations of the district, conferred with the Oakland library board last night over the question of establishing one of the Carnegie libraries on a site at Foothill boulevard and Fremont street. Mrs. I. E. Garrison, president of the John C. Fremont Mothers' club, stated that a site, the size of which would be determined by the requirements of the library, had been offered by John C. Talcott.

The organizations represented were the Melrose Parents' and Teachers' association, the Melrose Heights Mothers' club, the John C. Fremont Mothers' club, the Jefferson Mothers' club, the Melrose Mothers' club and the Melrose Businessmen's association. The securing of a Carnegie library here has been under discussion by the residents for some time. The committee appointed to go before the library board was appointed at a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. G. Dyson, 2219 Forty-fifth avenue.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR NEVADA FAIR BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Pledged by an automobile parade which started from the Palace hotel, headed by a band, ground was broken today for the Nevada building at the exposition grounds. Dr. John A. Hadler, president of the Nevada Society of California, presided, and Lieutenant-Governor Gilbert C. Ross represented Nevada. Representatives of both the mayor and the governor of California were present.

Miss Dita Belknap raised the flag over the site, and several other Nevada girls took part in the ceremony.

LANGUAGE IS LONESOME. Joe Letarso, a South Sea Islander, has a language all of his own. Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris is searching for an interpreter. Letarso arrived on the ship Neptune a short time ago. He went for a stroll in Berkeley and in Kennedy street saw two women whom he admired. He returned home to the house and crawled into the basement, hoping to get another sight of them, he indicated. But they saw him first and telephoned to Chief of Police Vollmer. Now he is in the county jail charged with burglary, but all he stole was a glance.

MRS. HAGAN PLEADS HER INNOCENCE IN COURTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Olive Hagan, the young San Jose woman who shot and killed her sweetheart, Clayton Putnam, was again before Superior Judge Cabanis today for arraignment on a charge of murder. The girls stood her ordeal of appearing in court with more fortitude than she displayed on Tuesday, but could not restrain the tears from falling and there was a note of hysteria in her voice as she pleaded not guilty to the accusation. She will go to trial on October 26.

THEY HURT THEIR HANDS. Within a few moments of each other, two cases of lacerated hands came to the Receiving hospital for treatment. The first case was that of John Foster, foreman of the Rudeout Company, a resident of 1411 Market street, who gave his thumb a rather severe cut. The wound was dressed by Dr. W. R. Irwin. In the meantime Dr. Dowdle was sewing up the lacerated finger of J. B. McFall, a blacksmith of 732 West street, who, while assisting a furniture mover, dropped a stove on his hand.

METAL WORKER HURT. George Conger, a metal worker, 80 years of age, a resident of 1343 Melville street, Berkeley, while repairing a roof, fell to the ground, sustaining a lacerated scalp and bruises. He was taken to the Receiving hospital, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. E. E. Dowdle.

"HON." R. B. WHITLOCK IS SUED BY IRATE VICTIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Although some of the contractors who claim that they were defrauded by the "Honorable" Richard B. Whitlock are inclined to count up their losses and to smile at the easy way they were robbed of their coin, one of their number, Charles Wright, has taken the matter to the court. Today Wright brought suit against Richard B. Whitlock to enjoin him from disposing of a check for $225 and asking on order of court returning it to him. The Union Trust Company on which the check was drawn, has been made a party to the action.

Whitlock, it is claimed, posed as the representative of Hays and San Domingo in the erection of buildings at the Panama Pacific Exposition. The contractors were called upon to bid and asked for certified checks as a guarantee of good faith. In all Whitlock is said to have obtained $25,000.

TURKISH ENVOY DEPARTS, PEEVED

A. Rustem Bey Leaves on Account of Statements Concerning U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—A. Rustem Bey, the Turkish Ambassador, has left Washington for New York and today is on his way to Turkey. In a statement before leaving the ambassador said that he was quitting the United States on leave of absence at his own initiative.

He explained that this step, which he had undertaken without consulting with his government, with which he had not been in communication, was the result of the attitude of the United States toward the situation in the United States and the "water cure" in the Philippines to massacres in Turkey.

When government officials indicated that an expression of a modification of the ambassador's views would be welcomed by the United States, Rustem Bey notified the secretary of state his opinions were unchanged.

TWELFTH STREET SERVICE STOPPED

Oakland Terminal Railways Acts Upon Letter From Mayor.

The following correspondence between Mayor Frank K. Mott and W. E. Alberger, vice-president and general manager of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways Company, has been made public.

"Executive Department, City of Oakland, Cal., Oct. 1, 1914. Mr. W. E. Alberger, Vice-President and General Manager, San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, Oakland, Cal., Dear Sir:—This is to advise you that the temporary permit granted to your company by the city council to operate key system cars on Twelfth street during the reconstruction of your tracks there will terminate October 2, 1914. I therefore have to inform you that your company must be prepared to withdraw that temporary service on that date and return to the former method of handling your travel in that street.

"The permission was granted solely for the purpose of enabling your company to complete its track work in Twelfth street and it was thoroughly understood that at the expiration of the time there could be no further extension of the temporary privilege nor could your company continue to operate the key system cars on Twelfth street under the conditions which prevailed during the reconstruction work.

"Your letter of September 25 to the city council, asking for a virtual suspension of a continuance of the temporary arrangement, has been referred to me. I have not yet had time to consider that matter, but I beg to advise you that it will be taken up at once as an entirely new proposition, in no wise connected with the temporary permit under which you are allowed to operate up to October 2.

"I shall give the question most careful and thorough consideration and report back upon it to the city council. Yours truly,

"(Signed) FRANK K. MOTT,
"Mayor of the City of Oakland."

"October 2, 1914.
"Hon. Frank K. Mott, Mayor of the City of Oakland, Oakland, Cal., Dear Sir:—This is to acknowledge your referring to the operation of our 'key system' cars on Twelfth street. I understand that a temporary permit was accepted by the former general manager of this company for through service for the purpose of facilitating construction work on Twelfth street, which probably carried with it at least an implied understanding that the through service would be limited to the reconstruction period. As it is our desire to scrupulously observe not only the letter, but the spirit of all agreements made by accredited representatives of this company and public officials, we will suspend this through service on midnight of October 2.

"At the same time we take the opportunity of inviting the support and cooperation of your administration in a renewal of this through service which is so popular among our clients and in our opinion so important to the business center of Oakland. You will appreciate also that in suspending this service at this time, we do so with the desire of having you understand that we do not yield any of our legal rights in the premises, but that, on the contrary, it is the advice of our counsel that we should not continue to operate this service until the legal questions, believed to be of great importance, are now being operated over Twelfth street. We therefore reserve these legal questions, believed to be of great importance, are now being operated over Twelfth street. We therefore reserve these legal questions, believed to be of great importance, are now being operated over Twelfth street.

General Funston's Troops Will Not Evacuate Vera Cruz Before October 11

NACO, Sonora, Mexico, Oct. 3.—Governor Maytorena's troops advanced from all sides this afternoon to attack the Carranza garrison here under General Benjamin Hill. Sixty thousand cartridges and two more machine guns were received by General Hill today from the American side.

Villista forces under Governor Jose M. Maytorena continued desultory firing upon the outskirts of General Benjamin Hill's Naco garrison throughout the night, but ceased at daylight.

The town's defenders awaited the attack, which Maytorena informed General Funston, commanding the United States border guard, would be delivered shortly after daylight. Hill soldiers reported that the skirmishing during the day had resulted in a loss of ten killed for Maytorena.

Hundreds of refugees from Naco slept in the rain last night in the streets of Naco, Ariz.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The American commander opposite Naco, Mexico, has been instructed not to permit the bringing of Mexican wounded across the boundary. American surgeons, however, if necessary, will treat wounded on Mexican soil.

Zapata will not join Villa, according to a report to Congressional headquarters here today. He reported that Ismael Palafox, Zapata's representative, said yesterday in San Antonio after having conferred with General Villa in Chihuahua that Zapata never would join Villa because Zapata was a federalist with Huertistas and Federalists and other reactionary elements "are joining Villa and will soon control him, using him as a tool."

Another report which reached here today from a point along the border says that General Dominguez Arrieta defeated General Urbina in Durango and that Urbina and many of his men were wounded and carried to Torreón. General Arrieta is a Carranza supporter.

U. S. HOLDS VERA CRUZ. Administration officials here today awaited with interest further reports of the meetings at Mexico City of the leaders of the Carranza faction. It was thought the conference would hold its deliberations during the day.

Dispatches that had been received by the Constitutional agency here indicated that those in attendance at the meeting also would be Carranza supporters.

Should an agreement be reached at the Carranza conference, it is planned to have the Carranza faction to go to Mexico City, where a provisional president will be designated and arrangements made for elections and the formation of a permanent government.

While it has been announced that Vera Cruz will be evacuated by American troops before October 11, it was the opinion of government officials today that detachments might be withdrawn within the next two weeks. Should this be done, a considerable force undoubtedly would be left in the Mexican city for as long a time as circumstances seemed to warrant.

VILLA TO ATTACK NOW. NACO, Sonora, Mexico, Oct. 3.—Governor Maytorena, Villa's commander, formally notified Colonel Gaitanero of Hill's United States Cavalry border patrol last night that he would attack Naco at daybreak.

Colonel Benjamin Hill with 1500 men and some light artillery, is well entrenched and is prepared to stand siege while awaiting expected reinforcements of Carranza troops.

This followed the formal demand by Maytorena for the surrender of Naco and Hill's refusal.

Several thousand Yaqui Indians attached to the Villa forces under Maytorena have slowly gathered during the week and it is expected they will join in the assault on the town.

Formal forbiddance to take the wounded across the American line was issued by the American commander. This was enforced when Colonel Figueroa of Hill's command, who was probably fatally wounded by a bullet from his own revolver, when he fell from his horse yesterday, was sent to the border seeking better medical attention. It is thought that he will die.

The railway lines partly destroyed by Hill in his retreat last week, are reported repaired. If this be true, Maytorena's cavalry will probably come from Cananea to aid in the battle, as rumored.

MEXICANS HOLD AMERICAN. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Max Blum, an American, is under arrest at Merida, Yucatan, charged with having unduly participated in Mexican politics. It is alleged that Blum is a partisan of Felix Diaz.

Blum was arrested last June in Mexico City charged with a political offense, but was released by President Huerta.

RUELAS TO RECRUIT TROOPS. TEXAS CITY, Tex., Oct. 3.—General Miguel Ruelas, who arrived here Thursday from Vera Cruz on the steamship City of Mexico, is on his way to Lower California to muster several thousand former federal soldiers for General Carranza's army. Ruelas said he had just returned from Tehuantepec, where he organized 5000 former Federalists for Carranza.

CONFERS WITH U. S. CONSUL. VERA CRUZ, Oct. 3.—Jose Rodriguez, claiming to be a representative of Emiliano Zapata, visited W. W. Canada, the American consul, today and requested that Canada use his influence to prevent the evacuation of Vera Cruz by the Americans until Zapata could get here. "In order to give the inhabitants proper guarantees."

Anticipating the transfer of authority will not be long delayed, large numbers of the native custom house employees and other natives employed in various capacities by the civil government, have resigned.

HOLD HEATED DEBATE. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—Several hours of heated debate at the second day's session of the general conference of Constitutional chiefs, called for by the plan of Guadalupe, brought about no decision regarding the co-operation of the southern generals with the northerners in the proposed peace conference at Aguas Calientes. The conference here is being attended by southern generals only.

Most of the generals who were present yesterday carried arms and during one stage of the debate Colonel Berlanga, secretary to the governor of the federal district, suggested that in the future these be left outside the chamber where the meetings are held.

This occasioned applause from the galleries and floor.

The generals yesterday sent a representative to General Emiliano Zapata, inviting him to participate in the conference.

QUESTION and ANSWER

Collier's Weekly (October 3) asks the question: "To own a piece of land is almost everyone's desire. To realize this one need only read the advertisement in city newspapers. To encourage this craving for land ownership is the best form of statesmanship. But we don't encourage it. A study of these same real estate advertisements and of what goes on behind them will show that we let 'windmills and capricious capitalists' make a universal issue for the land. They play upon it and lure their victims to loss and discouragement. JUST AT THIS TIME, WOULD IT NOT BE BOTH HUMAN AND WISE FOR MEN WITH THE GIFT OF LEADERSHIP AND THE CAPACITY FOR BEARING UP RESPONSIBILITIES TO ORGANIZE THE SYSTEM, MAKING THE OWNERSHIP OF LANDS AS EASY AS POSSIBLE AND AS WIDELY DIFFUSED?"

HERE'S THE ANSWER

The people KNOW that Collier's speaks the truth. The Modern Homestead Association supplies the answer. Organized by C. M. Wooster, "Father of the Country Land Movement in California," Col. H. D. Loveland, member of the State Railroad Commission, William E. Smythe and other prominent citizens, it is "MAKING THE OWNERSHIP OF LAND AS EASY AS POSSIBLE AND AS WIDELY DIFFUSED."

FREDERICKS SHOWS UP JOHNSON ON 8-HOUR LAW

Governor Waited Until Eleventh Hour Before Signing to Hear From Earl and Roosevelt

MARTINSVILLE, Oct. 3.—More than 2000 persons attended the meeting here last night at which Captain John D. Fredericks and Congressman Joseph R. Knowland were the speakers. It was a tremendous gathering, full of enthusiasm and the speakers were applauded to the echo.

A significant feature was the presence of seven vice-presidents on the platform, all of whom voted for Johnson four years ago, and supported his policies two years ago.

These seven were C. F. Boardman, William Saffin, J. H. Barr, C. W. Wilson, L. W. Walton, Thomas Jefferson Wilson and G. H. Nicholas. Leading Republican declared Fredericks would carry both Sutter and Yuba counties.

Captain Fredericks caused great interest by reading a written statement by Chester H. Roosevelt of Fresno concerning the attitude of Governor Johnson on the eight-hour law for women.

"Far from favoring this beneficent measure," said Captain Fredericks, "Governor Johnson held back his support from it until the eleventh hour and it was only when the attitude of Theodore Roosevelt, who was in Los Angeles at the time he made up his mind to sign the measure.

"How his attitude toward the law was not known, even to his most intimate Progressive friends and counselors is well illustrated by a statement made by William H. Rowell. Rowell, in this statement, says:

"The most desperate protest against the bill came from E. T. Earl of Los Angeles (Earl is the owner of the Tribune and Express, two Progressive newspapers). Mr. Earl was so earnest that he made up his mind to sign the measure. 'How his attitude toward the law was not known, even to his most intimate Progressive friends and counselors is well illustrated by a statement made by William H. Rowell. Rowell, in this statement, says:

"The meeting was called to order by County Clerk G. G. Halliday, and the organization of the body was completed by the selection of Henry R. Stahl of Vallejo as chairman, John A. Browne of Vallejo as secretary and S. J. De Soto of Rio Vista as treasurer.

It was decided to inaugurate the greatest political campaign that the county has ever known and to this end it was reported that Republican literature is to be placed in the hands of every voter in the county. Splendid speakers will be secured to address the voters of the various towns of the county and it is proposed to have Captain John D. Fredericks, Republican candidate for Governor, and Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator, tour the county during the latter part of the present month.

A committee on platform and resolutions consisting of Mr. Dickey of Vallejo, Arthur Hillborn and A. C. Tillman of Suisun, R. J. Curry of Dixon and A. McCormack of Rio Vista was named to draft resolutions and a platform to be adopted at the meeting which is to be held at the call of the chair. It is expected that this meeting will take place within the next week or ten days.

The delegates in attendance were as follows: Vallejo, G. M. Dickey, John A. Browne, Frank H. Lee, Harry McManus, W. C. Saunders, G. G. Halliday and H. F. Stahl. Suisun—C. E. Barnes, A. C. Tillman and Arthur Hillborn. Dixon—B. J. Newberry, J. C. Vista—S. J. De Soto and A. McCormack.

Answers Husband Five Years After Divorce Suit Languages Until Wife Files Torrid Cross Complaint.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Answering the suit of her husband for divorce, five years and a half after the complaint was placed on file, Mrs. Madeline W. Evans, wife of Robert M. Evans, a well-to-do business man at present in Los Angeles, made a variety of charges against him. The locale of her allegations covers the entire country, starting in Boston, thence to New York city, various cities in Washington, and thence to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The couple were wedded on Christmas eve, 1897, in Boston. In his action for divorce begun here in March, 1909, Evans says that his wife held a pistol to his head because he had refused to be bound to marry her with a contract to give her 40 percent of his net income. He claims that soon after their marriage she reproached him with not providing for her the same luxury as her sister, who lived at 554 One Hundred and Eighty-fifth street, New York, enjoyed. Frequently, he said, she absented herself from home and otherwise failed to perform her wifely duties.

In her answer Mrs. Evans charges that he owes her about $300, and that the couple are now engaged in litigation in the State of Washington, which was set aside at the instance of his wife. Several affidavits are mentioned by Mrs. Evans, one of whom she asserts lives with her spouse as his wife at 1624 Taylor street, in this city.

As a final charge the complaint avers that Evans contracted a bigamous marriage in Vancouver, B. C. He is now in Los Angeles.

BOY SHOOTS FATHER. In attempting to frighten some men who were stealing grapes from his father's vineyard, a 17-year-old boy, Melio de Fommartini, today fired several shots from a revolver and one of the bullets lodged in the leg of his father, Aracelito de Fommartini, who was out on a scouting expedition in the hope of winning the money. The son carried his father into the house and summoned Dr. T. H. Webster, 3233 East Fourteenth street. The wound was dressed.

SUES SANITARIUM. Alleging that he has sustained serious injuries as the result of having been bound with twisted bed sheets and left in that condition for nine hours, Joseph E. Jerosky today commenced in the Superior Court against the Livermore Sanitarium for $25,740 damages. Plaintiff was a patient in the sanitarium a year ago and declares he paid $160 per month for his treatment.

The Meddler

MANY of the activities of the smart set this winter carry with them more than the ordinary degree of seriousness. For one thing many well-known women are deeply interested in study courses and these are not found within the limits of ordinary club work. A group of well-known women gather each week for the lecture recitals of Mrs. Oscar Maillard Bennett, who announces that her lectures are "based upon the works which have proven to possess the strongest dramatic and spiritual appeal and the highest social and economic value. In her announcement one finds the following:

"The Great Galeoto".....

.....Jose Echegaray
The greatest tragedy of idle gossip in all dramatic literature.

"The Idealistic Note in Modern Drama."

Materlinck, Ibsen, Shaw, Hauptmann, Galsworthy and others.
"The Plays and Poems of Rabindranath Tagore."

"The Postoffice," "Chitra," "The Realization of Life," etc.

"The Foot of the Rainbow".....

.....Myrtle Glenn Roberts
"The Philosophy of the Wagnerian Trilogy."

Lohengrin, Parsifal and Tannhauser.

It is remarkable to how large a number of the women of the smart set such lectures as these bring a special appeal. Many women of the smart set also assemble on Mondays at the Oakland for the lectures which Mrs. Pohl is giving, and the lectures are often most interesting translations of foreign plays.

Many women of the smart set were so interested in their study of parliamentary law last year that they have gone on into higher courses, and their study has led them to the discussion of many of the problems of the day.

Under the direction of Mrs. W. S. Peters of San Leandro and Mrs. S. C. Borland of Oakland a committee of a hundred women is being organized to aid in securing the million dollar bonds promised for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and their efforts are meeting with much success.

Mrs. A. C. Posey, chairman of the Alameda county auxiliary of the exposition, held the first rally of the series planned by her at Livermore yesterday and among her speakers were Mr. Egilbert and Mr. Levy of the exposition directors and Mrs. Gaillard Stoney of the women's board of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Among those whom one meets in the many important study classes of the season are Miss Mabel Gray, Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, Miss Christie Tait, Mrs. Frederick Cutting, Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, Mrs. Frank C. Ravens, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. J. R. Scupham, Mrs. William R. Davis, Mrs. Charles H. Rowe, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. A. A. Denison, Mrs. Charles H. King, Mrs. Guy C. Earl, Mrs. George Hammer, Miss Janet Haight, Mrs. Wallace Everson, the Misses Everson, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. Minor Goodall, Mrs. Oscar Sutfro, Mrs. W. E. Sharon, Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, Mrs. Warren S. Palmer, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Frank K. Mott, the Misses Farrier, Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, Mrs. William E. Colby, Mrs. J. Loran Pease, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mrs. J. W. McClymonds, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, Mrs. John Francis Smith, Mrs. Harrison, Miss Grace Trevor, Mrs. Easterbrook, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. F. M. Smith, Miss Sperry, Mrs. T. L. Barker, Miss Mary Alexander, Mrs. Wallace Alexander, Mrs. J. P. Dunn, Mrs. Allen Chickering, Miss Matilda Brown, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. Walter Scott.

There are so many women today who do things exceptionally well that they are an inspiration to others. One of the finest working sections of any of the clubs is the current events section of Eboli, led by Mrs. L. F. Cockroft. She returned from the East this week and the section on Friday was of special interest. Mrs. Cockroft went East to meet her daughter, who returned from Europe with the Vernon Waldrons. While in New England she visited Concord, the historic home of Emerson and the delightful Acacia.

Among the best Shakespearean students on the coast is Mrs. J. R. Scupham, who comes of a family noted for its literary ability. Her niece is Mrs. John Charles Adams and her nephew was the late Philip Verrill Mighels.

Mrs. Duncan McDuffie is at the head of affairs of the newly established Baby Hospital, and she bids fair to make a success of what may develop into a great work.

WOMEN TAKE ACTIVE INTEREST IN MRS. DAVIDSON.

The political situation is absorbing the attention of many well-known women and they are taking a vivid interest in its many phases. It is the first year since the franchise was granted that there has been a state election, and there has been a record-breaking registration of women. One bears that there are 50,000 registered in Los Angeles county alone.

Women who have never before shown any interest in politics are now understands the business end of her work so well, that she has built forty-one new schoolhouses, all of the most approved type. She has been elected three times to the superintendency of Kings county, and in the last two elections she has had no opponent. Her own county—Kings—rallied to friends. Mrs. Harris also has many friends in Oakland, and she will be welcomed by members of the smart set. Arthur Harris is vice-president of the Central Savings bank, and probably has a wider circle of friends in Oakland than any other business man.

MISS GWENDOLYN WOODWARD, WHOSE ENGAGEMENT TO JAMES HAMILTON TODD JR. WAS A RECENT ANNOUNCEMENT.

very much in the heart of things, because to them politics means principle, and they see where women and children are to be benefited.

One woman only crossed the line of the state primaries, and so there is only one woman candidate in a line of sixty-seven men. The great surprise of the election was the magnificent vote accorded Mrs. N. E. Davidson, who qualified with the magnificent vote of 123,387—passing the man next in line by 40,000 votes, perhaps the best record ever made by a woman at any election, and showing a good support from men who believe in the dominant influence of women in the school. No one can, of course, analyze a vote like that, so unexpected as it has been in many of its phases, but it has gladdened the heart of many who believe in fair play, and who realize that the ballot will mean more to women than just going to vote.

So women are taking everywhere an active interest in Mrs. Davidson, and she is the personal candidate of many.

In the limelight, as she is in these days, one hears much of her. She is a very feminine type of woman, gentle, sympathetic, sincere, very cultured, with a sweet personality, very winning. And with all this, there comes the unusual attribute of rare strength, and it is said that she is one of the finest executive officers in the state. She has great firmness, and she places the interest of the children first—and Kings county has been no place for a poor teacher. In raising the salaries she has raised the standard of excellence, and she her in the primary just past, and sent her on over the line with a record vote of three to one—and it will be almost unanimous in the coming election.

Our own county showed appreciation of a man's work in making her second, and we can be trusted to do even better than that. Mrs. Davidson made her campaign in a most modest, dignified fashion. She is very unassuming—as are most successful people, she trusted to her fitness for the office and to her successful career to win out for her. But there never was a campaign made with less shouting—and men who "know politics" said she had no chance. These same men had a surprise when the majorities rolled up—and Mrs. Davidson won in a fine, dignified fashion her place on the state ticket.

Perhaps she is setting a new standard for women in political life. And after all, it will mean much for California, if a woman worthy of high honors, shall be given a place in the state government, in recognition of work well done—and as an appreciation of a woman's fitness for the office.

For Mrs. Davidson's slogan has found an echo in many hearts—"Our schools are for our children."

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR HARRIS ARE AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Harris, who were recently married in Denver, have returned from their honeymoon and are now at the Oakland hotel. Mrs. Harris is a charming woman. She formerly lived in Denver and Portland, Ore., where she has a host of Mr. and Mrs. Harris are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED FOR MRS. DAVIDSON.

A large reception will probably be planned for Mrs. Davidson before the election in Oakland, as she is a sister of Mrs. William E. Creed, and an aunt of Wigginton Creed of Piedmont. The Creeds are among the best known families in Alameda county, and they have hosts of friends all around the bay.

Other leading meetings in which women are much interested will be held at the Oakland this month, and many weighty problems will be discussed over the "sociable and friendly" cup of tea.

HIGH ALTRUISM OF MISS ETHEL MOORE.

The new activities of the day are wonderfully interesting, and the world will be immensely better because of them, for it is "the uplift" that counts. And it is just as one of "the willing workers" says—"What's next is the interesting part of life." Perhaps no one carries a wider message than Miss Ethel Moore, who is such a good student, and she is always ready to learn anything which leads down the road of advance. And so thanks to Miss Moore, who is the able head of the Playground Department, a new experiment is to be tried in our city. The example was set by the young girls of the smart set of New York, whose desire to be of use in the world—to make something of their lives, in spite of the luxury that money brings, led them to study conditions in other spheres than their own.

One of the fashionable schools of New York is the Spence school, in which have been educated the Stone girls, Mrs. Hiram Johnson Jr. (Amy Bowles), Leslie Miller, and many California girls who have made their debuts in the past ten years. The experiment begun by them in New York has been tried in Chicago and Cleveland, and now under Miss Moore's direction, it will be tried in Oakland.

The young girls of schools like the Spence school in New York, give a good deal of their time and much of their youthful enthusiasm to helping to keep up hospital beds, to running settlement clubs, to teaching sewing classes, to providing fresh air outings, and many other helpful things. Pasadena has long had an annex for girls, which has done fine work, and associated with it have been Mrs. Arthur Breed and Miss Marjorie Mhoon. Now Oakland is to have its auxiliary also, and it is to be called "The Guild of Play," and all who have leisure and a love for out-of-door things, for games, for folk dancing, for story telling, for camp fires, are invited to join. There will be a course in the open air at Mosswood Park playground from 9:30 to 1:30, beginning next Wednesday, October 7. Those who enroll will receive instruction in folk dancing, in team games, in stories to tell children, in simple dramatization, requirements of guardianship of camp fire girls. Among the instructors will be Miss Von Hagen, who is the director of girls' work in the Oakland Playground Department, and who comes from the famous Dudley Sargent school in Cambridge. Miss Hazelthorne will give Swedish training, and Miss Grace Barnard, so well and favorably known in the educational world, will be among the instructors. Miss Maude Cleveland, at the head of the women's gymnasium work at Berkeley, will also be among the instructors in this new playground experiment. In return for this splendid training, those who receive it will put it to good advantage wherever possible. In helping to amuse children wherever they can—in the Baby Hospital taking care of older children while mothers take the babies to the clinic, or in settlement work, interesting and helping children.

Among girls interested in the movement are Miss Marjorie Mhoon and Miss Edith Goodfellow, and many girls who have leisure are expected to join the class next Wednesday. It all makes for a wider life horizon, and girls fortunate enough to be able to remain at home, may develop duties beyond their homes that will interest

MUSIC IN THE EAST BAY CITIES

EDITED BY THE

CO-OPERATION AND EFFICIENCY IN MUSIC

The Aims and Ideals of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Ass'n

The Alameda County Music Teachers' Association was organized in June, 1913.

Its membership now comprises nearly 150 of the musical profession and persons interested in music in Alameda County.

It is affiliated with the California Music Teachers' Association, a state organization, with branches in the different counties of the state.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the association is to obtain for the musical profession the advantages which come from the co-operation of a number of people who have interests in common. It has been organized to promote the spirit of fellowship and co-operation among the musicians of the community.

ADVANTAGES OF MEMBERSHIP.

Co-operation in plans and movements affecting the musical profession in general.

Exchange of ideas with people working along the same line of endeavor.

Promotion of a social spirit among musicians and raising the standard of ethics of the profession.

Assistance in the promotion of any musical project in the community which is of benefit to the profession as a whole.

The arousing of a public spirit among the press and public regarding the musical art as a valuable asset of a community.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership is divided into two classes:

Active. The active members pay an initiation fee of one dollar and three dollars annual dues. The membership issued to them by the state association admits members to all meetings of the association in the state. Applicants for active membership shall have had at least two years' experience in teaching music and shall have been residents of the county in which they desire to join the association at least six months.

The application cards must be signed by two members of the association and must be accompanied by a check for four dollars before being considered by the board of directors.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS.

Anyone interested in the advancement of musical art may become an associate member.

Associate members enjoy the privilege of active membership, except the right to vote. The dues are the same as for active members.

FUTURE PLANS.

By an increased membership it is hoped to enlarge the scope of the organization and to make it a still more powerful factor in the life of the community.

This association has endeavored a plan of the state association to have a law enacted by the state legislature to compel teachers of music to register and obtain a license to practice their profession.

It has also endeavored the plan to standardize the profession by requiring an examination or certification from prospective members.

By this method it is hoped to weed out the incompetent teacher and materially increase the efficiency of the profession.

STATE CONVENTION.

The annual state convention of the California Music Teachers' Association will be held in Alameda county in July, 1915. The sessions of the convention will be held in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda.

Besides the educational value of the convention sessions, it is proposed to hold in connection with this convention concerts of a high character.

The privileges of all these affairs will be open to all members of the association without charge. The public will be charged an admission fee.

Unquestionably the most highly developed Pianos in existence today, artistically, scientifically, musically.

WALTER McGRATH, 1507 Nineteenth Avenue and W. A. Grant, 2248 First Street, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night when an automobile in which they were riding skidded into the curb on the Oakland side of the Webster street drawbridge. Both incurred slight bruises and lacerations, which were treated at the emergency hospital by Dr. George G. Reinle and Steward Davidson.

OLD ANCHOR FOUND. VALLEJO, Oct. 2.—An old ship's anchor that had been resting in the bottom of the bay for the past fifty years was pulled up by the North American tugboat yesterday afternoon. It is expected that the anchor will find the present use in front of the ferry slip at Mare Island early next week.

WILL BE REPAIRED. MARE ISLAND, Oct. 2.—It was learned today that the tugboat "Mare Island" will be repaired at the shipyard of the Pacific Coast navy reserve in Mare Island in the near future to have her boilers retubed.

Young People's Concert

(By William Edwin Chamberlain)

There is much said about educating the public to an appreciation of music, but that which we consider our public is in most cases the grown people. Concerts are usually arranged and given for adults who attend them largely for amusement and recreation, and so little is done to enable children to hear music of real worth. In other educational pursuits young people are considered first as they eventually develop and become our adult public. If it is the idea to educate the public musically we are not beginning at the wrong end. We are beginning at the wrong end. We are neglecting the young people.

One of the arguments made against programs of so-called classical music for children, is that they do not understand and appreciate them. But this has been tried in the past and found to be otherwise. There are compositions by Haydn, Mozart, Schubert, Mendelssohn, and many others which are greatly enjoyed by young people if they are properly presented to them. Of course we cannot expect the children to listen with pleasure and attention to programs of the length of those usually presented, but children soon learn to become discriminating in their musical tastes and make an appreciative audience for the performance of the program.

Four years ago a series of concerts was given in Berkeley, known as the Young People's Concerts. Nothing but the very best in music was presented at these concerts and the price was made so small (two and a half cents a concert) that any child could afford to attend. Explanations were made of the programs and they were so enjoyed that the Young People's Concerts have become a permanent feature in Berkeley.

There have been recitals of songs, piano, violin, harp, and harpsichord; chamber music recitals with string quartet and trio; a wood-wind septet; orchestral concerts; and illustrated lectures on Wagner's "Nibelungen Ring" and Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel."

David Elspah, the great American baritone, has sung twice for the Young People's Concerts and after his first recital said, "I have never had a better audience." At his second recital the program was made up largely of numbers requested by the children, among them, "The Two Geniuses" of Schumann, "Who is Sylvia?" and "Hark, Hark the Lark," of Schubert. So it gave our young people frequent opportunities to hear good music by our best artists at a cost well within their reach we shall soon have a real musical public and enjoy the fruits of our efforts.

There are many fine organists in Alameda county who have to their credit much experience and study both here and abroad, and Alameda county may justly be proud of its showing in this respect.

The officers of the Northern California chapter of the American Guild of Organists are as follows: Dean, Dr. H. J. Stewart, musical director; G. O.; sub-dean, Otto Fleissner; secretary, Edgar Reinhold; treasurer, John Harnden Pratt; executive committee, Miss de Fremery; Miss Beatty, Mrs. Aspin, Mrs. Garthwaite; Messrs. Lucy, Samuel D. Allen, S. B. Warren D. Allen and William Carruth.

Those who have no opportunity for hearing the organ except as an accompaniment in the church service may not realize the large and varied character of the organ as a solo instrument. Music, not only of a serious character, but also of a brilliant and vivacious type, which does not lend itself to the ordinary routine of church service.

These concerts have awakened and renewed the interest in the study of the organ, and especially in that branch of it which pertains to concert work.

Prayers for Peace Tomorrow.

Following the proclamation of the President of the United States, members of all religious denominations in the country will assemble tomorrow in their various places of worship to pray for peace in Europe.

In so far as direct results are concerned we do not think the invocations to the Most High will be productive at this time, because it looks as if the powers engaged were determined to carry on the struggle to the bitter end. And while we are on our knees supplicating the Almighty to end the strife, the peoples of those nations are imploring Him to bless their armies and bring them the victory.

Yet the movement will not be altogether without good, even if the strife be not checked by Omnipotence. For in the congregating and the beseeching there will be a unity of spirit among our own that will develop a great sentiment of pity for the distressed and a firmer resolve to eradicate forever appeals to the sword instead of to arbitration.

It may sound irreligious to say that perhaps Infinity is taking His own way in this matter and is allowing the warring countries to continue without intervention to the end that strife may be stopped by the force of example, but no such spirit inspires these utterances. As THE TRIBUNE has said, every cause has had its martyrs. The awful disaster in the Iroquois theater in Chicago a number of years ago did more to prevent similar horrors than all the arguments previously advanced. The country saw that places where multitudes assembled were not properly safeguarded and laws were enacted in every state and in every city providing for quick means of exit, for asbestos curtains and other safeguards. The burning of the steamer General Slocum taught the necessity for better life preservers and other devices for insuring safety in danger. The loss of the Titanic has been the means of further improvements in ship construction.

Looking back over history's pages it will be seen that nearly every great movement, if not of all of them, has its roll of men and women who have not died in vain. Perhaps when this titanic struggle is over and the peoples of the world shall have been told all the details, when the appalling catalogue of casualty and calamity shall have been completed, there will arise such a protest against repetition of this sort of work that no nation will dare suggest an appeal to arms.

Who shall say that Jehovah in his providence is not taking this course of action for the benefit of future generations, and that for every man who falls on the field of combat a thousand shall live; that for every tear that falls for the soldiers who have been slain, a million smiles shall illuminate the world?

Let us hope the neutrality conditions will not prohibit us dancing the German this winter.

Wonder if those eight thousand persons who cheered an Oakland newspaper for its neutrality respecting the European war, cheered the cartoon on the same day the story appeared?

England has ordered five hundred carloads of Pajaro Valley Pippins for delivery within the next ninety days. The Britisher is short on jam this year and apple sauce will be utilized. Well, California has the fruit. What a compliment to the Golden State that the buyers cross the orchard areas of New York, Michigan, Missouri, Arkansas and Colorado for their apples.

It is easy after you know how. Przemysl is pronounced Pshemsel, with the accent on the first syllable.

Rally for War on Disease.

Taking advantage of the opportunity presented by conditions abroad, E. E. Rittenhouse, president of the Life Extension Institute, of which Hon. William H. Taft is a director, is sending out a circular letter to the press advocating a New National Guard for the United States, to defend it from disease. President Rittenhouse points out that if Europe can enlist an immense army to destroy life, surely this nation should be able to enlist one to protect it by making a fight on preventable maladies that are destroying hundreds of thousands yearly.

It is said that 650,000 lives are lost in this country alone each year, or four times as many as were killed during the Franco-Prussian war, or equal to the battle of Gettysburg every three days. That every year diseases of the heart, arteries and kidneys, which are nearly preventable or postponable if detected in time, costs as many lives as were destroyed by wounds and disease in the Union army during the Civil War.

"In Europe," says the writer, "they are destroying human lives by design; here, by human neglect!"

Continuing, he relates: We have our regular army and navy, and the National Guard, and even Boy Scouts, all being taught how to destroy life if it becomes necessary in the support of our laws and our government. We have the great religious associations supporting the church which guards our spiritual welfare. We have our political parties to give support and vitality to our governmental system. We have all sorts of organizations in support of education, that we may be guarded against illiteracy.

Surely it would be a paying investment for the press of our land, which has done so much to promote healthful living habits and to disseminate knowledge of disease prevention, to urge for the same purpose a popular movement—crystallized into a National Health Guard—to help prolong American life and make it more liveable.

All of which is true. We are neglecting to take those precautions necessary to save life and the economic and sentimental loss is a heavy burden. An ounce of prevention is said to be better than a pound of cure and every one of us knows it, but too often we neglect our opportunities and when Death invades the circle content ourselves with declaring: "The Lord gave and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord," when as a matter of fact the Lord is not to be charged with the calamity at all, but our own selves.

It is plain to see the benefits accruing from such an organization as has been suggested. The individual would welcome it, the health officials would support it and encourage it, the communities would approve and benefit by it and the entire world would profit by it.

Oakdale high school students and their parents have by referendum vote decided that dancing is a proper part of the course of study. Sure it is, provided it is conducted properly. Waltzing around to the rhythm of a water beech gad for trifling for example.

King Alfonso, writing to a surgeon at Biarritz, who lost a son in battle recently, declares the "finest death a man can have is falling for his country." Possibly. But as a matter of economics the man who lives longest for his country, even though he grows nothing but cabbages, is better than all the dead heroes who are today filling the trenches of Europe.

Even war has its good points. Owing to the strife in Europe Sarah Bernhardt will not make another farewell tour of America this year.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Reliance Club baseball team and the Olympic Club team met on Sunday at the Piedmont grounds in the first of the three games that is to decide the championship of the coast. At the close of the meeting the score stood: Reliance 19, Olympics 4. Manager Cal Ewing had laid politics aside for the time being, told his wife that he was going to coach, and finally got the team out. And it was a great team. It was so great a team that they put Ewing, the political boss, manager, captain, grandfather of the team, in right field. Cal stretched a three bagger into a home run and clinched the game.

SCIENCE NOTES

As an evidence of the decline of the fishing industry of the Chesapeake Bay, it was only a few years ago since the largest seine in the world was in daily use during the season at Stony Point, but the last of it became so small that the use of the net was abandoned, as it was not profitable to put it out. The net proper was 9500 feet long, and the hauling ropes added 22,400 feet to it, making a total of 32,000 feet. The task of hauling in the net required the services of a steam engine and 50 men. As many as 2500 shad were taken in one day, and 125,000 in the season. In one haul 250,000 alewives were taken. Recently the season's operations at this point were abandoned after having been carried on at this point for a century. In the final season the waters of the Chesapeake have been literally honeycombed with nets and other devices for catching the fish, so that it is almost, if not wholly, impossible for them to reach the spawning grounds in the headwaters.

FIGURES ON COTTON

The last census bulletin, relating to the cotton market and the movement of cotton, shows that the cotton that went begging in Montebello for the last year shows the vital importance of the cotton market. The European war broke out on August 1, it raged without interruption throughout the entire month. The first effect of the war was the sweeping of practically all commerce from the sea, in three weeks partial sea commerce was restored, owing to the cotton market, and the neutral nations of Europe.

The cotton market in the United States shows that in August, 1913, the United States exported only 27,172 bales of cotton, while during August of this year, while the war raged, the United States exported only 21,210 bales. It is further shown that for the first time, more cotton was imported into the United States than was exported.

Conditions, so far as the cotton trade, are such that the cotton market in August is not as good as it was in any other month, so matter how long the war lasts. For nearly three weeks all Atlantic shipping was paralyzed. There were not even vessels sailing for England. In the latter part of the month, the British Government announced that the Atlantic had been cleared of German war vessels, and that shipping was then safe. Still there were but few vessels to be had for carrying commerce across the sea. There is some improvement in conditions now, and they will continue to improve. The new American registration law is bound to put cotton carrying vessels on the Atlantic.

In London cotton was selling at 13 1/2.

ALAMEDA COUNTY EXHIBITION IS OPENED

BLAZE OF COMMERCIAL GLORY IS GREAT FETE

PROGRESS, PROSPERITY, KEYNOTES

Features Are Rampant at Big
Carnival at Idora
Park.

THE Alameda County Exhibition and Carnival, under the auspices of the civic and commercial organizations of Alameda county, opened for sixteen days this afternoon at Idora Park. The opening day was set aside as Rotary Day and delegates of visiting Rotarians from San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento and San Jose were guests at a luncheon tendered by the Oakland Rotary Club at Idora Park, following a sight-seeing trip of Oakland and Berkeley.

As the incoming trains bearing the visitors arrived they were met by a local reception committee and shown the cities of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. The visitors were then escorted to Idora Park for luncheon, during which a number of impromptu "stunts" were provided for their entertainment and they spent the afternoon inspecting the displays of Alameda county products, resources and manufactures installed by the leading manufacturers and commercial enterprises of the county.

PRAISE EXHIBITION.
The visitors expressed themselves as well pleased with their entertainment, spoke highly of the exhibition and the great variety of Alameda county industrial activities. The exhibition is by far the most comprehensive ever held in the history of the county and reflects a great deal of credit on those who interested themselves in acquainting the residents of Central California with just what the county has to offer.

In the big pavilion at Idora Park the most attractive booths have been erected for displaying the various exhibits, these being decorated and arranged to conform with the general scheme, but allowing the individual exhibitor ample opportunity to display his own ingenuity in presenting his goods to the public.

While the project to hold such an exhibition was originally launched by the Oakland Rotary club the affair received the endorsement of the Oakland Commercial Club, the Merchants' Exchange, the Progress and Prosperity Committees of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers' Committee of the same body and several other Alameda county organizations.

Under the plan outlined for holding the exhibition it has been arranged so that the organizations co-operating can raise funds to be used in the entertainment of visitors to Alameda county during the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915.

MUSIC TO BE FEATURED.
Among the first organizations to avail themselves of this opportunity was the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association and Tuesday, October 6, was immediately set aside as musicians' day. Under the most active work of the association one of the biggest musical festivals ever held in Alameda county was arranged and musicians' day will be an event in the musical history of the east bay region. One of the first plans formulated was for a big chorus to give a festival orchestra concert in the evening and a chorus of over 500 trained voices was the result with an orchestra for the accompaniment of forty pieces.

The following are the choral societies in Alameda county participating in this chorus:
Orpheus Club, Edwin Dunbar Crandall, director; Berkeley Oratorio Society, Paul Steindorff, director; Alameda County 1915 Chorus, Alexander Stewart, director; Hughes Club, D. P. Hughes, director; Burdick Club, Edwin D. Crandall, director; Wednesday Morning Choral, Paul Steindorff, director;

DALTON SUIT TAKES BLAME THROWN OUT FOR DIVORCE ACTION

City Wins Case Against Foundry After Years of Litigation.

The suit commenced several years ago by the firm of Henry Dalton & Sons to prevent the city of Oakland from continuing its harbor improvements in the Key Route basin, on the ground that this work would take away the riparian rights of the firm to access to free water, was yesterday thrown out of court by the Supreme Court. The suit was not regarded at any time by the city as a hindrance to its harbor development plans, and has continued with work of bulkheading and dilling across the Key Route basin. Had the case gone against the city, however, it would have been necessary to take out this bulkhead in front of the Dalton property at the foot of Tenth street.

At low tide the Dalton property was 1500 feet from the water, while at high tide the lot fronted on the water. The bulkhead put in by the city brings it about that the property line is 4000 feet from the water.

The Dalton alleged that they had a claim akin to a riparian right, giving the firm access to water at all times. On this point the Court said:

"Such title is subject to the public easements of navigation and fishery. The Court further held that when the public authorities see fit to make improvements 'the riparian owner must yield thereto and his right is subordinate to the riparian right.'"

Westgate, director; First Congregational, Mrs. F. J. Collar, director; First Methodist, Miss Fern Frost, director; First Baptist, Byron Hendrickson, director; St. John's Presbyterian, Howard E. Pratt, director; St. Mark's Episcopal, Glenn Woods, director; First Congregational, Mrs. Mabel Redfield, director; Park Congregational, Dr. Richardson, director; Westminster Presbyterian, E. S. Sage, director.

UNDER STEWART'S LEAD.
This big chorus will be under the direction of Alex. T. Stewart, who was successful with the chorus of 400 which recently rendered the Messiah, and Edward Dunbar Crandall, musical director of the Oakland Orpheus Club. Paul Steindorff will lead the orchestra. The following is the program:

FUND TO BE USEFUL.
The funds raised by the county association will be utilized in providing musical features during the State convention of the California Music Teachers' Association which will be held in Oakland next year. The musical festival at Idora Park will be the forerunner of the annual musical festival planned for Oakland with the completion of the municipal auditorium. It is planned to make these festivals of a nature to attract music lovers from all sections of the Pacific Coast.
Following musicians' day will be improvement club day on Wednesday, October 7, when the improvement clubs of the county will hold forth at Idora Park. Sunday, October 11, will be Contra Costa county day and special cars and trains will be run from Contra Costa county points to bring in the visitors from that county.
The annual reunion of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Alameda county will be held on Wednesday, October 14, and several special features have been arranged for that occasion. Mrs. M. Christensen, past noble grand of Hayward lodge, No. 26, of the Rebekahs, is Denies Sensational Allegations Against Wife in Divorce Suit.

Taking all the blame upon himself and denying the sensational allegations he made in an old divorce suit, W. B. Gillingham, wealthy mining expert, today expressed great regret that the filing of a divorce suit against him by Camilla Gillingham had been the occasion of bringing up the past. He declared that following his error in making accusations against his second wife he had been the one forgiven and not her. He retracts the allegations made in a $100,000 alienation suit he filed against his old friend, W. B. Schooler, in which he declared that his friend had stolen the affections of his wife. His statement is as follows:

"I regret exceedingly that the evening papers of yesterday and the morning papers of today issue an account of charges which I made against my wife, Mrs. W. B. Gillingham, in suits for divorce and alienation of affections in July and August of last year. These charges were made in the heat of passion immediately upon my return from a trip to Nevada and were not well considered or the actions would never have been brought, and as soon as I found that I was mistaken and the evidence could not be verified, the actions were dismissed and I sought a reconciliation which she granted. I am certain that my wife's character is in every way free from suspicion and I wish you to make as public a statement of this as possible.

"In the cases which my complaint relates of my forgiving Mrs. Gillingham and making a reconciliation with her, I wish now to state that it was I who was the forgiven one and not Mrs. Gillingham.
"Mrs. Gillingham is now suing me for a divorce in Oakland, but the matter is entirely different from the affair of last year and should have no connection with it and I hope will not. If Mrs. Gillingham does not feel forced to bring up these old affairs, which, as I have stated, were mistakes on my part and hasty conclusions based on evidence which found could not be verified, she received me back after these cases were dismissed and she has been wronged by the publicity given to them now."

Girl Robber Released at Pastor's Request

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Nina Luke, the nineteen-year-old girl robber, was taken from her cell in the city prison this morning and formally charged with holding up George Brown of 2817 Twenty-third street, on August 31, 1913. At the same time Fred Reist and Frank Nelson were charged jointly with her. The two men have admitted their complicity in the affair, but the girl denies that she wielded the revolver while her male companions ransacked Brown's pockets. The trio will appear in the police court Monday.

Miss Luke is a member of the vestal choir of the Holy Innocents Memorial Church and is one of the most popular of the singers. Rev. Dr. Frank De Fries Miller, rector of the church, called at police headquarters this morning and declared that he wanted personally to stand bail for the young woman. He made a request that her bonds might be reduced so that he could put up the money to effect her release. He expressed great confidence in her innocence of wrongdoing.
Miss Luke was released by Police Judge Deasy on her own recognizance on the promise of Rev. Dr. Miller that he would be responsible for her appearance in court on Monday.

Southland Has First Rainstorm of Season

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—The first rainstorm of the season, begun last night shortly before midnight, continued lightly throughout Southern California today. Seventeen hundredths of an inch was measured in Los Angeles up to 8 a. m. The precipitation was slightly heavier farther inland.

It was reported to the police that the number injured was probably twenty. All the ambulances in Jersey City were sent to the scene. Windows were broken a mile away.
Of the 150 men usually employed at the plant, approximately half were on duty today. The plant consisted of perhaps a dozen or more small buildings scattered over several acres of ground at distances of forty feet or more apart.
The explosion occurred in the drying room. Twenty-one persons were taken to hospitals within an hour, some of them believed to be mortally injured.
John Andrews, superintendent of the plant, was placed under arrest.

Five Injured During Motor Race at Fair

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 3.—By the breaking of an axle of his motor car in the 25-mile race on the automobile course at the Interstate Fair grounds here late yesterday "Jack" Le Cain, a racer of Boston, crashed through the racetrack fence into the oval and bowled over a dozen women, men and children, injuring five, one probably fatally.
The car of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll of Philadelphia caught fire on the track in the twenty-third lap of a 25-mile race and was badly damaged. Driver and mechanic escaped injury.

STRUCK BY CAR.
Stepping from behind his milk wagon after delivering to a customer, at 5142 Ygnacio avenue, Jacob Mueller, 7346 Boulevard avenue, was struck by a Fifty-fifth avenue car, early this morning and thrown several feet. He sustained severe bruises and lacerations. Dr. G. C. Brown attended the injured man. Mortician J. A. Peters had no warning that Mueller was behind the wagon, and so did not slacken speed in passing.

Advertising and Demonstrations BY PHOENIX FLOUR MILLS AT Idora Park

Phoenix Milling Co. has employed Mrs. Mary L. Haines, the Bread Expert, who will give daily demonstrations in the art of making wholesome bread and pastry. Will also serve White Rose Flakes and Phoenix Pure Rld Oats. Another feature will be added by offering for the first time Phoenix Self-rising Buckwheat Pancake Flour. An appetizing and satisfying breakfast food which will sell at all grocers for 15 cents a large package.

The Phoenix Milling Co.'s White Rose Flakes sell for 25 cents, which includes an attractive premium and a ticket for a set of dishes. The Phoenix Pure Rolled Oats retails for 10 cents per package.

The demonstrations by Mrs. Haines will be on General Electric Range, furnished by the Kimball Electric Co., which is the latest idea in modern cooking and is worth every housewife's time to observe the method. The Electric Company will also furnish the latest Pancake Iron, which may be used on the breakfast table and cakes baked while eating without leaving the table.

Besides these demonstrations the Phoenix Milling Co. will give away nightly Phoenix Family Flour, White Rose Wheat Flakes, Phoenix Pure Rld Oats and Self-Rising Buckwheat Pancake Flour.

Don't forget to visit their booth while at the Exposition and stop for samples of their Pure Cereal Products and Family Flour.

MAZDA is a trade-mark!

It is used to mark the highest type of electric lamps known to-day. Lamps marked MAZDA will give you more light for each dollar you spend for lamps and electric light bills than any other electric lamps on the market. MAZDA lamps will produce three times the light of a carbon lamp without an increase in cost to you.

Mazda Is Perfection of Illumination

The perfection of artificial illumination is an achievement of modern ingenuity whose value to the community can not be estimated. Illumination has always been a foundation stone of civilization—a cause, a means and a result of the best that our race has attained. Without it the civilizations of Egypt, Greece and Rome were but lightning flashes across a prehistoric night—brief even as bright. Formerly man's activities were limited to daylight hours. After the setting of the sun he was little better than the cowardly jungle savage, an easy victim for all the wilder forces of nature. Thomas A. Edison, in 1879, invented the electric incandescent lamp. It was an invention which marked a revolution—the dawn of a new era—in the world's problem of artificial light. His discovery has since been developed and perfected into a system so extended that it now, for the first time in the history of the world, offers a solution of the age-long problem of light, and extends the possibility of electric light for everybody.

MAZDA MARKS ERA OF PROGRESS

Makes Possible the Most Efficient and Economical Light.

History, viewed as a simple story, is a series of epochs, each more remarkable than those preceding. Through the story of the world's development can be traced individually and definitely the slow progress of each branch of man's activity, whether it be material or mental, pertaining to the works of the hands or the work of the mind. The tilling of the soil, manufacturing, the fine arts, medicine, and even the art of play, find the world advanced in clearly marked stages as time progresses. In viewing the steps through which developments have passed it is seen that the periods of progress are marked by great revolutions in thought, political systems, modes of living or the adaptation of material things to the greater comfort of the human.

Since time began man has had use for light. Light was always necessary and in nature it was provided to a sufficient degree without effort on his part. He broadened the scope of his activities and enlarged his sphere of interest, the necessity for prolonging the period in which sight could be advantageously employed became apparent. Forthwith the gift of fire was called into service and made to perform as a substitute for the day. Gradually and slowly, it appears to the super-active world inhabitant of today, the use of various materials, as animal oils, reeds, easily combustible woods and various other materials, was developed until the candle seemed the final step in convenience and adaptability as an artificial light source.

Until the modern age of material progress the candle was supreme in its field. Then, as world skill in conducting material in useful form grew greater, the oil lamp and the gas-light served to relegate the candle to oblivion. Then came the age of electricity, that had its beginning when it was discovered that the hidden force that had formerly been regarded only as destructive could be governed and made to do man's bidding. When the incandescent lamp was invented it was looked upon, even by its producer, as a final step in achievement. It was slowly developed, gradually made to return more for the forces it required, but in principle and operation it remained practically unchanged for many years. But, as the pages of history reveal, there must be movement in one direction, either forward or backward, and in the production of light, the development of a medium for conveying the highly useful electric current into the form of light, there was no exception.

Mechanical skill and the application of a knowledge of chemistry gave to the world the most modern lamp, the MAZDA. So much superior to its predecessors is this source of light that it has already been given a place in the annals of material progress as the beginning of a new epoch in light production, and the greatest authorities will not even venture a guess at future developments.

To credit the Mazda lamp with a great part in all progress is not overstepping the bounds of truth, for the purpose and action of the production of artificial light has always been a vital factor in the advance of the universe. To Mazda lamps may be credited the fact that even the humblest home can enjoy the use of electric light, as well as the fact that the great industrial establishments to continue uninterrupted operation by their use. In view of these great truths it is but fitting that the instrument that makes such progress possible be recognized as the foundation of a new age in the production of light.

Electricity Produces More Work, Less Labor

Electricity in the factory, workshop, pattern shop or planing mill has proved itself efficient. It works only when needed and then only as hard as is necessary. Fire risks and accidents have been reduced, by eliminating gasoline tanks, steam pipes and belts and line shafts. The condition of the workmen is improved, as the noise from the line shaft is stopped, the lighting of the plant is bettered, and the dust and dirt removed.

Loss of power in transmission by line shafts is about thirty per cent and, should a break occur, the whole plant would be put out of commission. Then, too, line shafts are dangerous and keep insurance rates high, besides hurting the workmen's eyesight by cutting off light. The noises distract the operators and the pulley-control arms take them away from their work when starting, stopping or shifting belts.

Individual motor drives with the controlling switch at an accessible point on the machine bed is now recognized as the best method. Coupled with properly placed lights,

PANAMA-PACIFIC ILLUMINATION

Acme of Experts' Genius Will Delight Millions of Visitors.

Science's greatest marvels in electrical illumination have been developed to their highest degree by experts to be used in various ways in illuminating the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

The lighting of the spacious grounds, the exhibit palaces and exquisitely decorated courts, will represent the acme of the illumination expert's genius and will delight the millions of visitors to the 1915 celebration.

Practically every feature of the lighting will be unique, exceeding in its grandeur and dazzling beauty anything of the kind ever seen before.

A striking feature of the illuminating scheme will be the use of what is known as flood lighting instead of the old method of outline lighting.

By means of this newest method, great floods of light will be thrown on the facades of exhibit palaces, showing the architecture in its true perspective and beauty, unmarred by ugly shadows caused by less modern lighting systems.

Are standards will flank the various avenues and their light will be shielded by beautiful silk banners, showing the architecture in its true perspective and beauty, unmarred by ugly shadows caused by less modern lighting systems.

High-power electric searchlights upon the roofs of buildings will send their rays piercing through great myriads of colored prisms hanging from the cornices and facades of palaces, causing these prisms to scintillate as so many jewels.

From the bay a battery of electric searchlights will throw their colored rays over the grounds and into the skies, causing an effect of unsurpassed beauty.

Small incandescents will be concealed in the fluting of the columns decorating the courts and beneath the waters of the cascades.

In the Palace of Horticulture, built to resemble a sultan's palace, great searchlights will throw their varied colored rays into the huge glass dome giving this the appearance of a giant opal.

The electric current used to light the exposition will be sufficient to illuminate a quarter of a million homes, according to careful estimates. In a word, the exposition, from an illumination viewpoint, will represent the triumph of electric lighting and will mark an epoch in that science.

WOMAN GOES ON TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Jack Hecan and his wife, Corinne, jointly charged with receiving stolen goods in connection with the alleged stealings of Joseph Fischer, pleaded guilty today to the crime. Fischer, who it is alleged misappropriated $35,000 worth of diamonds from the Samuel's Jewelry Company, vanished his attentions upon Mrs. Hecan and made her a present of several of the articles. Instead of returning them after they learned of Fischer's arrest, it is alleged the couple concealed the jewels they had thus obtained.

CAPWELLS VS. GIANTS.

The H. C. Capwell team will meet the Lynn Stanley Giants this afternoon at Bay View grounds at 3:30. Manager Eiler will present a fast team and figures to beat the Giants. Johnny Van Morick, late of the American Rubber team of Emeryville, will do the twirling and McGuire the catching for the dry goods lads. Opposed to Van Morick will be "Red Merchant," West of San Francisco. Lloyd of the Eureka Club will also be seen in a Capwell suit.

AIDS COTTON SITUATION.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 3.—The Du Pont Powder Company has joined the movement to relieve the cotton situation in the South by purchasing outright cotton to the value of $325,000, it was announced here last night. In addition the company will accept from its Southern trade warehouse certificates up to $125,000 for cotton at 10 cents a pound.

It gives maximum efficiency. The workman can see his work, no matter how fine, at all times, and can control his machine independently of all others. Safety attachments may be added so that the machines will not start unless conditions are right, and will stop should anything go wrong.

The workmen appreciate their improved conditions and are able to turn out a better grade of work more quickly. This means a raised standard of production and more pay for the men.

Motor drive is applicable to any size or style of machine. Twenty-foot planers are controlled as easily and quickly as sewing machines, and at no greater proportional cost. Unusual operating conditions are easily handled by special equipment and normal conditions by standard equipment. Motor dealers and manufacturers have co-operated to develop electric drive to make it possible for any equipment.

'A TWITCH OF THE SWITCH'

Light, Heat and Power at Your Hand Everywhere and at All Times.

"A twitch of the switch—that's all." Do you realize what that means in your home? It means the acme of convenience, simplicity, comfort, safety. No lamps to fill or to clean, no gas to breathe, no kitchen fire to light, no dirt, no fuss, no danger. It means a well-lighted house, a cool, clean kitchen, and effective household tools. It means light, heat and power in the safest, cleanest and most convenient form, at your hand everywhere and all the time. You need never use it a second longer than necessary for the work you want it to do. Electricity is no longer the coming thing—it's HERE; efficient, safe, and convenient. It's ready and waiting to do your bidding, just by "a twitch of the switch—that's all."

Your electric iron is heating while you are remaining comfortable. It is clean, quick, safe and economical. It does not gather dirt from the stove, it heats quickly and stays hot without changing. It requires no fire and needs current only when it is in use. Every woman wants an iron sometime even if all laundry work is done out of the house. The electric flatiron can be used in any room where there is a lighting outlet, and it is a valuable adjunct to a traveler's outfit. It saves steps and so saves time and energy. In saving energy it saves nerves and may save doctors' bills. Remember, "a twitch in time" etc., take the stitch by "a twitch of the switch."

No more is needed to make your breakfast coffee and toast, brew your afternoon tea, boil eggs or cook an entire dinner. It is fascinating, convenient wherever it is installed. As a secondary source of heat it has a place in every home. There is always some room in the house that is not sufficiently heated, or that has a cold corner. There are days between winter and summer when little heat is wanted at some particular spot. There electric heating is needed. The Luminous Radiator produces heat in the instant it is turned on.

Your sewing machine motor is running—a slight pressure on the machine treadle and the machine is at work, releasing the pressure and the machine stops. It takes the fatigue from sewing. Light labor, uniform and speedy work result from the use of the sewing machine motor.

SENATE REVISES
WAR REVENUE TAX

Finance Committee Working on Proposed Changes in Measure.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Work of revising the House war revenue bill was continued today by Democrats of the Senate finance committee. They hoped to finish their work by tonight. The committee had before it for consideration a recommendation of its substitute committee for the elimination of the proposed tax of $2 a thousand on bank capital and surplus and the substitution of a stamp tax on checks, drafts, certificates of deposit and other negotiable paper. The tax of checks, drafts, etc., would be two cents and on certificates of deposit, etc., two cents each $100,000, or less, in amount, approximately $10,000,000 of revenue annually.

The action of the committee in agreeing to a reduction of the proposed tax on gasoline from two cents to one cent a gallon and the imposition of a levy of 50 cents per horsepower on automobile sales was unexpected. It had generally been believed that the automobile tax would be substituted for the gasoline tax. From the tax on gasoline it is estimated that the revenue would be about $10,000,000 a year.

Retention of the proposed increased tax of 50 cents a barrel on beer is provided in the House bill, also was agreed upon. A further increase of 25 cents may be made if more revenue is needed. Upon the recommendation of the Treasury Department the committee decided to retain the tax of 20 cents a gallon on sweet domestic wines as provided for in the House bill and to reduce the house rate on dry wines from 12 cents to eight cents.

COLLEGE CLASSES IN HOT STRUGGLE

With Red Paint and Fire Hose U. C. Students Wage Torrid Conflict.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 2.—Battle royal raged about the sophomore steps of North Hall yesterday afternoon between members of that class and the freshmen, after the latter had performed the supreme insult of campus conduct, by painting the steps of the building upon the sacred steps. The freshmen were the chief weapon employed, and it was finally used with a vengeance. It all started when a crowd of freshmen, carrying a bucket of paint, appeared at the east side of North Hall. While several guarded the approach to the steps, others painted an immense "U. C." on the steps of the freshmen. Promptly the sophomores started rounding up freshmen to make them erase the figures.

And Students Wonder if Faculty Will Act

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 2.—Did the faculty favor the campus savants' perusal yesterday's edition of the Pelican, the college josh magazine, portend anything?

That is what numerous students at the university are wondering today. Herein, in the "tough" number and other editions the magazine got safely by the faculty and even when it ruffled the feelings of the foreign contingent by gibes at the Kaiser, there was little said publicly.

SLUMBERS WHILE WATER PIPE FLOODS HOUSE

Firemen of Richmond to Keep Intact Crews of Early Days.

RICHMOND, Oct. 3.—It was the first flood of the season and happened in the home of Harry Lee, 609 Ninth street. Lee works as a fireman for the Standard Oil Company. He labors at night and consequently sleeps late. Yesterday he was sleeping while the rest of the town was busy at its daily toil. Captain Lee is a great sleeper. He slept on while the water trickled through the cracks in the floor, down the steps into the basement.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT TO REIGN IN RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Oct. 2.—Confetti, a monster parade, the blowing of horns and a regular carnival were the beginning of the big bazaar which the ladies of the Richmond Club will hold next Thursday and Friday.

PREFERRED TO LIVE AT HOME OF HIS MOTHER

Because Bradbury Pratt preferred to live at home with his mother rather than make a home for his wife, he has been made defendant in a suit for divorce brought by Margaret Pratt. The couple were married a year ago, but lived together only a short time, when the husband packed his clothes and went home. He sent his wife to Los Angeles and told her to remain there until his marriage. She came back and he refused to send her transportation back to Oakland.

METHODIST LADIES' AID SOCIETY HAS ELECTION

RICHMOND, Oct. 2.—The ladies' aid society of the First Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the church parlors for the annual election of officers. The reception for the new pastor, Rev. Peterson, after his arrival to take charge of the church, was held at the reception hall last night.

PLAN SAVING BEE

ALAMEDA, Oct. 2.—Mrs. G. C. B. Anderson, formerly of 2448 Clinton avenue, opposite Haigh school, will have a "thimble bee" Thursday of next week for the purpose of preparing materials for the children of the poor who have been killed in the British army.

ACHES AND PAINS

Don't neglect a pain anywhere, but find out what causes it, and conquer the cause. Don't wait until the pain is so bad that you can't get to sleep. Don't blame the weather for a headache. It may be an advanced warning of Bright's disease. A pain in the stomach may be the first symptom of appendicitis. A break in a joint may be the forerunner of rheumatism. Chronic headaches more than likely warn you of serious stomach trouble. The best way is to keep in good condition day in and day out by regularly taking GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL capsules. Sold by reliable druggists. Money refunded if it does not help you. Beware of substitutes. The only pure imported Haarlem Oil Capsules are the GOLD MEDAL. Guaranteed and sold by The OED Drug Company.

"Moses" Finds His Mistake in Asking Aid From Police

BERKELEY, Oct. 2.—Horace Beaman Moses made a vital mistake yesterday. He applied to Chief Vollmer for train fare to Sacramento. Not that that is an offense, for Vollmer has helped many a man farther than that, but it was an offense for Moses, in view of his record. Vollmer looked this up while Moses was being entertained by a sergeant. He found a letter from Chief Sebastian of Los Angeles telling of Moses' appearance before him in 1911.

HE SEEKS PRISON FOR SAKE OF BABY

Man Tries to Break in So Child
Will Be Properly
Nurtured.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—For the sake of a 22-month-old baby a man today tried to break into the penitentiary.

The judges of the superior court declared they were amazed at his eagerness to sacrifice himself that his child might have proper care. They are eager to keep him out as he was to get in.

The name of the man is J. L. Kaufmann. The manner in which the judges discovered what they called his extraordinary humanity follows in the report of Postal Inspector Cookson:

"The postal inspectors today received a letter written by J. L. Kaufmann, 111 East Sixth street, in which the judges of both the federal courts and the state courts were profusely addressed. The language was such a nature that Deputy District Attorney Graham, who examined it, concluded the writer was insane and suggested an immediate investigation. The letter indicated a request that the writer be arrested."

TALKED OF BABY.

"I went to the address and talked to Kaufmann about the baby. He said that he and his wife had separated and that the baby was sick and needed care that he couldn't give it. The mother of the child, he declared, was an improper person to have the child. The child, he said, had been sick and was when eight months old and still suffering from the effects. He had been told by certain relatives, he said, that if he permitted the baby to be adopted they would steal it."

"Not knowing what to do, he decided to act upon a statement he had heard that the government will take good care of children taken from criminal parents. Not realizing that he could obtain assistance from the juvenile court, he decided to commit a crime, be arrested, and have the child taken and placed in a government institution where it would receive good attention."

"He thought over various crimes and finally decided that if he wrote letters to the judges, making numerous false charges, he would get quicker action and be put in the penitentiary and the child taken care of."

The officers refused to arrest Kaufmann. The inspectors say the child will be taken care of.

DASHING LAWYER MUST BE TRIED

He Demands Hearing Forthwith, But Finally "Stands on His Rights."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Constantine N. Riccardi, debonair attorney, charged with embezzlement, was defeated today in his efforts to have the charges against him thrown out of court on a technicality.

Judge Gavin W. Craig, after having considered the case for several days, told Riccardi that he would be compelled to stand trial.

Riccardi replied with a demand that he be tried at once, and made this assertion:

"I won't take twenty minutes to hear the evidence against me. I won't put a single minute on the record to my own defense. But by the testimony of Mrs. Alma Shaw, the state's principal witness against me, I will secure my liberty."

A moment later, however, Riccardi consulted with his attorney, Paul Schenck, and he then said: "I stand upon my right to five days' time between today and the day upon which I must enter my plea."

The case will be called again at the end of that period and Riccardi must then plead guilty or not guilty.

The charge against Riccardi, that he kept for his own use $1500 given to him by William E. Shaw to deliver to Mrs. Shaw to be used for the support of their child. The Shaws had separated.

OAKLAND ELKS TO PUT ON EXCELLENT COMEDY

Elaborate plans are being made by the Oakland Lodge of Elks for the production of the well known play, "The Elks' Tooth," which will be given at the Macdonough theater Friday and Saturday evenings, October 16 and 17, the proceeds to be added to the 1915 entertainment fund, when thousands of members of the order are expected from all sections of the United States and Canada, and to defray the expenses for a delegation from Oakland lodge to the national reunion of the order which will be held at Los Angeles, California, August 1, 1915. The author of the play, is in charge of the rehearsals which are now being held, and the members are taking a deep interest in the coming event.

A woman's auxiliary committee has been chosen as follows: Mrs. W. H. L. Hyatt, Mrs. Leo Maitson, Mrs. F. A. Hooper, Mrs. A. Schuster, Mrs. C. G. Dodge, Mrs. Beach Dean, Mrs. O. D. Hamlin, Mrs. Thomas Hogan and Mrs. Ezra Deane. The lodgesmen in charge are Mrs. Horwinski, chairman, A. Van der Nat, Robert J. Sheridan, Milo E. Hickox and Lynne Stanley.

STEEL COMPANY WOULD END WAGE AGREEMENT

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—Notices were posted in the works of the Carnegie Steel Company in the Pittsburgh district yesterday that the company desired to terminate the wage agreement which has been in effect fifteen years. A. C. Dinkey, president of the Carnegie Company, which is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, said yesterday that the company desired to prepare for a probable readjustment of the wage scale. He said there had been a depression in the steel business on account of the European war and that the company would be better able to deal with its perplexities if not restricted by the present agreement. He was intimating by President Dinkey that any change in the wage scale would be for a short period and dependent wholly on business conditions.

CAPT. DAY GOES EAST TO WIN CONVENTION

Bearing commissions from Governor Brown and the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Capt. William J. Day of the California Prison Commission will depart in a few days for St. Paul to represent California before the American Prison Association and to bring the industrial organization to this state for the 1915 convention. The association consists of all wardens, chaplains, probation officers and so on. Its program last year was to discuss the prison problem and the treatment of prisoners and the influence of the prison on the community. Captain Day will carry an embossed invitation from the exposition and an official invitation from the governor to the association.

MERCHANT MARINE GROWS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Fifty-four ships, aggregating nearly 250,000 tons, north approximately $15,000,000, have been added to the American merchant marine since the new ship registry law went into effect. Although the vessels previously sailed under British, German or Belgian flags they were really American owned and had foreign registry only because they were foreign built. Assistant Secretary Sweep of the Department of Commerce said today the question of price was not involved in any of the transfers.

DISCONTINUE SESSIONS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The liquidating committee of the coffee exchange was instructed yesterday by the exchange to discontinue sessions until further notice. This action was taken because liquidation had been progressing very slowly, and it is understood, another plan was contemplated to hasten the process. It was announced that the members desiring to liquidate October contracts might submit propositions to the chairman of the committee through the superintendent.

ROBBERS SUSPECT ARRESTED.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3.—A man declared by the police to be George W. Martin, wanted at Spokane on a charge of having held up and robbed the Spokane State Bank on August 23 last, was arrested here yesterday and is being held for the Spokane officers. The robbery was committed at noon time when a teller was alone in the bank. The robber obtained $1500 and threatened to blow up the place with nitro-glycerine if resistance was offered.

CONFIRM CONVICTIONS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The appellate division of the Superior Court in Brooklyn yesterday confirmed the conviction of William Willett, Joseph Cassidy, one time Democratic leader of Queens county, and Louis C. Walter, the trio were convicted of conspiracy upon testimony that Willett gave Cassidy money with the understanding that he was to retrieve the nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court. Walter, the evidence showed, acted as the agent of both men.

ROOSEVELT IS CAUSE OF CHAGRIN TO GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The London Times prints an article headed "Through German Eyes," in which it says that Theodore Roosevelt's recent statement seems to have caused much chagrin in Germany and its press expresses regret that in spite of all efforts Germany is unable to win American sympathy. The Cologne Gazette deals with Roosevelt as follows: "This man was never gifted with modesty, never had a full insight into European affairs. When anybody is in office other people have respect for that fact, and that is why Roosevelt was formerly treated with special respect in Germany."

"To say," continues the London Times, "that Mr. Roosevelt was treated in Germany with special respect is below the mark, for there is nobody whose sympathy Emperor William more assiduously tried to capture."

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what your medicine had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy. I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. B. BOSCAM, 504 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

Tons of Roots and Herbs are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Machine.

Porterville, Oct. 3.—A. E. Thompson, a Lindsay orange grower, was killed yesterday afternoon when his automobile was struck and overturned on Sunny-side avenue, five miles north of here, by a car driven by H. A. Brisco, a Lindsay machinery dealer. Thompson was pinned under his car. He was 43 years old, a retired lawyer and is survived by a wife and four children.

Kentfield, Oct. 3.—The annual grape festival for the benefit of the Presbyterian Orphanage at San Anselmo is being held today on the grounds of Congressman Kent's home, in Kentfield. Extensive preparations had been made by club women of this county, San Francisco and Oakland for the entertainment of 5000 persons. Scores of new features are being added to the program, and dozens of booths have already been erected on the grounds.

San Jose, Oct. 3.—Proposing that the Board of Education provide a poolroom of their own for the high school, 350 boys of the school today signed an agreement to keep away themselves and to do all in their power to keep other boys away from uptown poolrooms. They took the matter up as the result of constant scandal over high school boys who frequent poolrooms and gamble. Two arrests of school boys for burglary and another for passing fictitious checks in recent months have aroused the public and the school.

Marysville, Oct. 3.—The biggest land deal consummated in this vicinity in many years was completed yesterday with the transfer of 3100 acres located between here and Whittier to the California Fruit Land Company by the owners, G. E. Bellby, Sheridan Harding, William Osborn, Hugh Morrison and F. W. Laughlin. The consideration was $225,000. The land will be cut up into tracts of 10, 20 and 40 acres.

WANT SCHOOL IMPROVED.

A large gathering was present at the last meeting of the Peralta-Claremont Improvement Club, which was held on Thursday evening in the clubrooms of the Claremont school. The residents of the district having been advised that a campaign was to be started for the purpose of getting a modern school structure on the old Peralta school site came out in great numbers for there is no other school in the city that has been neglected like the Peralta school. It seems that many years back the school property was decided to be used for school purposes only, and as the present building is about ready to collapse the residents of the district want to see something done before the city loses the privilege of using this property for school purposes.

HOTEL CLOSING RESTRAINED.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 3.—Superior Judge John E. Humphries yesterday issued a permanent injunction restraining the city of Seattle from enforcing an ordinance against three lodging-houses alleged to be unsanitary. Judge Humphries, who is a candidate for the Supreme Court, decided that the building owners complied with the ordinance in force when the houses were constructed, and that a new ordinance could not destroy the vested rights of the owners. Judge Humphries declined to accept the City Attorney's invitation to visit the lodging-house basements in company with a policeman.

Stop those Early Bronchial Coughs. They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throats, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cannelton, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. BISHOP HANNA RETURNS FROM TRIP TO ITALY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Right Rev. Edward J. Hanna, Bishop of San Francisco, arrived home yesterday morning, after a journey to Rome in behalf of the diocese. Bishop Hanna accomplished the object of his trip and had intended to return sooner, but was delayed in Naples, Italy, for seven days by the outbreak of the European war, which caused so much overcrowding of steamers.

"I saw the late Pope a few days before the end," said Bishop Hanna last night. "He looked well then and his death was a surprise. I reached Naples August 18. Pope Pius X died on August 20."

"I had booked passage for the United States and decided that it would be best to return, as we one knew what would be the result of the war, and I did not care to be delayed indefinitely."

"I served on a committee appointed by Ambassador Page to aid the refugees. Italy was in a tense state, but the Italians were exceedingly solicitous for the welfare of Americans. The Latin is a kind man."

"Some 1400 left on the early steamers for Naples, most of them with little baggage. I secured passage on the San Giorgio, with many others, all accepting the poor accommodations cheerfully. Only ten trunks belonging to the passengers were aboard the steamer. Everything possible was done to aid foreigners and there were no episodes of moment that have not already been recounted."

GAME WARDEN MURDERED.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 3.—The discovery after a hunt of four days of the body of Edward Borie late yesterday afternoon has convinced the police that the man was murdered last Sunday. Borie was a game warden and the police believe he was shot by some poacher whom he tried to arrest.
